Third Youth Saved
Following 2-Hour
Fight by Rescuers

WARWICK, R. I. (AP) — Two 15-year-old boys were buried alive Wednesday night when trapped by a cave-in some 15 feet below ground — where they had dug out an underground room.

A third boy was rescued after two hours of frantic rescue work. He suffered only a minor head cut, apparently sustained when grazed by a rescuer's shovel.

Three other boys had just left the tunnel entrance when the cave-in occurred during a drenching rain. One of them, Bruce Charon, 15, said he fell backward as sand poured over him from the opening, but managed to dig himself out.

Earth Collapses
The victims were Michael J. Kasek Jr. and Frank J. Laprochina Jr., both of Warwick.

William E. Underwood Jr., 13, also of Warwick, was several feet nearer the surface than the Kasek and Laprochina boys when the heavy, wet sand came tumbling into the labyrinth of the tunneling.

"I didn't think about anything in particular," he said later. "But I sure was scared. I was trapped in a kneeling position and couldn't move."

Approximately 50 foremen, police and volunteers worked feverishly to reach the boys. A power shovel and two backhoes were brought in before the rescue was completed.

The Underwood boy said he was buried up to his chest and the other two boys were buried completely.

Sand Keeps Falling
A fireman, Dudoeph Kingma, was one of the first persons at the scene. The Charon boy had extended one foot down the hole in an effort to have the Underwood boy grab on to it, but left for help when he realized Billy was too far down.

Kingma dug Billy's arm free but when sand kept dropping in as fast as he could dig it out, he put an oxygen mask on the boy's face and got a rope underneath his shoulders.

More sand caved in and the boy was buried completely for a time.

"I held the mask on with my left hand and prayed," the Underwood boy told rescuers.

He finally was brought to the surface after two hours and 17 minutes of rescue work. Treated at a hospital, he returned to the scene in time to see workers bring up the bodies of Kasek and Laprochina.

The boys had been digging tunnels in the area, alongside a house foundation, for the past four of five years. They were digging a horizontal shaft when the cave-in occurred, the Underwood boy said.

Search Pressed In Mississippi For Killers of 3

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Federal and state authorities today intensified their search for the killers of the three civil rights workers whose bodies were discovered after a painstaking 44-day search.

The state was rife with rumors that arrests were imminent but the FBI would neither confirm nor deny the report.

There was another report which also drew a no comment from authorities — that instead of arrests a grand jury would be asked to sift the evidence in the case and make indictments as it saw fit.

A pathological report from the University of Mississippi Medical Center here said all three were shot to death. The bullets were recovered, it was reported.

Congo Army Still Fights Red Rebels

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Congolese army troops are reported still fighting Communist-backed rebel warriors on the outskirts of Stanleyville, the main city of the northern Congo which fell to the rebels Wednesday.

Brief messages reaching the Congolese capital from Stanleyville by a roundabout route said the rebels had occupied the city. The messages added that troops of the Stanleyville garrison were still battling just outside the city in the neighborhood of the airport.

Advised by Chinese
The airport control tower went off the air Wednesday afternoon after a message saying that the rebels had taken over. The rebels are reportedly being financed and advised by Chinese Communist diplomats in the neighboring capitals of Brazzaville and Bujumbura.

Messages today indicated that U.S. Consul Michael Hoyt of Chicago and his staff of four other Americans in Stanleyville were alive and in good health.

Hoyt, 33, had refused to quit his post "as long as there is still hope." With him in Stanleyville are the vice consul, David Grinwis, radio operators James Stauffer and Donald Parkes, and administrative officer Ernest Houle.

Trucks of paracommandos in full battle gear rolled through the streets of Leopoldville this morning. Other soldiers took up positions outside the capital's main post office and other key government buildings.

Greeks and Turks Exchange Fire in Northwest Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriots battled today with mortars and rockets in northwest Cyprus.

Sporadic firing continued at midday in the area known as Tillyria, a mountainous promontory dotted with small Greek and Turkish villages.

Turkish Cypriots in the area control about 10 miles of coast, their only beach on the island. United Nations observers say the Turks have landed men and arms there.

The U.N. observers declined to estimate whether the renewed fighting meant Greeks were preparing a new drive to oust the Turks from the coast. A U.N. source did say, however, that the use of rockets and mortars appeared significant.

Swedish U.N. troops were rushed into nearby mountains to fight a large forest fire believed touched off by mortar fire.

Downtown Nicosia had been the scene of violence Wednesday night. One Greek Cypriot was killed and four others injured during a two-hour street battle.

New Fight Launched Over Health Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-ditch fight to enact a Social Security-financed health care plan for the elderly this year opened today in the Senate Finance Committee.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze appeared to testify for the administration plan which would provide hospitalization, nursing home, diagnostic and home health visit benefits.

This proposal, known as the King-Anderson bill, was beaten 52 to 48 in a Senate showdown fight in 1962.

Negro Comedian Says He Gave FBI Letter on Fate of Rights Workers

HONOLULU (AP) — Negro comedian Dick Gregory said today a letter he relayed to the FBI three weeks ago told where to find the bodies of the three slain civil rights workers in Mississippi.

He said he also has given the FBI a tape recording containing names of the killers.

Gregory had offered a $25,000 reward for the information. He did not name its source.

The FBI in Washington said it had no comment.

Gregory, doing a night club date here, called a news conference and said he had considered the letter phony before Tuesday when the bodies were found.

Assault on U. S. Unprovoked Aggression, Briton Asserts

Moscow Press Moderate in Condemning Retaliatory Action

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Douglas-Home today called the North Vietnamese attack on American warships unprovoked aggression and said the United States was right to retaliate.

The prime minister cut short a Scottish vacation to return to London for talks on the crisis.

He told newsmen at Euston Station: "This was an unprovoked aggression on United States warships in international waters."

"Therefore the United States has the perfect right to retaliate, and it is for the United States to decide what form the retaliation takes."

Confers with Butler
President Johnson was in touch with me after the first attack, and gave warning that if the first attack was repeated he felt it would be necessary to take action to stop the aggression because unless such action is stopped war may easily result."

The prime minister held up the present consultations with Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler during the day. They examined latest reports from Washington and from British envoys. Butler originally had planned to go on vacation tonight to the Isle of Mull in Scotland. The vacation was postponed for a day or two.

Diplomatic sources said Britain is not contemplating any further action. She gives technical help in South Viet Nam, but is not taking part in hostilities.

The U.S. counter blow drew comparatively restrained protests from the Soviet press.

Moscow appeared to be going through the motions to forestall Red Chinese charges of showing a soft attitude toward the United States.

Moscow papers carried the usual headlines — "Aggressive U.S. actions" and "dangerous diversion in the Gulf of Tonkin" — but some put the story on back pages.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the presence of U.S. warships in the Gulf of Tonkin was "absolutely unjustified" and "an openly hostile act toward the states of this area."

Some Soviet papers carried Hanoi dispatches giving North

Congress Asked To Give Johnson Strong Backing

Wants Reds to Have
No Doubt as to Unity
Of American People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked Congress today to approve a resolution which will leave Communist aggressors "in no doubt whatever" of the unity and determination of the American people to defend Southeast Asia.

He told a combined meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees that recent attacks by North Vietnamese torpedo boats on U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin "are no isolated event."

Continuous Red Drive
"They are part and parcel of a continuing Communist drive to conquer South Viet Nam, control or conquer Laos and eventually dominate and conquer other free nations of Southeast Asia," Rusk said.

Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler testified behind closed doors in support of a resolution giving bipartisan backing of President Johnson's military actions in Southeast Asia. A copy of Rusk's opening statement was released by the committee.

The bipartisan leadership plan to bring up the resolution for quick passage in the Senate.

Milwaukee Fire Arson Suspected

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A three-alarm fire roared through a sprawling warehouse used to store cars and trucks Wednesday night.

A fire department arson investigation was begun after small blazes were found scattered inside the three-story brick structure, operated by the Winnebago Auto Replacement Co.

Fire Chief James Moher said the blaze was confined to a third of the 150 and 400 foot building, located in the industrial Menomonee Valley near the 16th Street Viaduct.

The first alarm was sounded at 9:05 p.m., the last at 9:44.

Chinese Communist May Confine Themselves to Bitter Propaganda Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed its military buildup in Southeast Asia today as officials watched for any clue Red China might ignore President Johnson's warning and start its troops marching.

Many officials here doubted they would. They expressed belief Peking would, in general, confine itself to mounting a propaganda attack, which is already under way.

The Communist Chinese charged the United States with aggression against North Viet Nam and declared "U.S. imperialism" has gone over the brink of war. They said the "Chinese people will absolutely not sit idly by without lending a helping hand" to prevent North Viet Nam from being "subject to aggression."

Ready for Trouble
Secretary of State Dean Rusk termed the situation explosive in the aftermath of the "very successful" American air strikes against Communist North Viet Nam's patrol boats.

"We cannot be completely sure about what the days ahead of us may hold," Rusk said, and the administration braced for a siege of trouble in Southeast Asia.

In South Viet Nam, transports roared out of the Saigon Airport in what appeared to be a giant airlift of troops and materials toward the North Viet Nam border to guard against the chance of an attack.

Planes Sent to Thailand
Activity was reported at a feverish pitch at the big coastal base of Da Nang, 80 miles from the Communist frontier. Six U.S. F102 jet interceptors landed at the base, sources said, and five South Vietnamese army divisions were said to be prepared to fight in the area.

In addition to the U.S. jets arriving in South Viet Nam, two squadrons of fighter aircraft have been ordered to Thailand, a U.S. Embassy spokesman in Bangkok announced.

As a precaution, the United States rushed more planes and ships — including the giant carrier Ranger and 12 destroyers from the West Coast — toward the crisis zone.

Congress Backing Certain
And the President delivered a clear warning to Red China, or any other nation with a nervous trigger finger.

Addressing thousands of persons gathered at the Syracuse

University campus, Johnson declared Wednesday: "To any who may be tempted to support — or to widen — the present aggression, I say this. There is no threat to any peaceful power from the United States of America. But there can be no peace by aggression, and no immunity from reply. That is what is meant by the action yesterday."

Bipartisan resolutions upholding the President's decision to fight back against North Vietnamese attacks were introduced.

Both Viet Nams Expected to be At U.N. Talks

Council President
Meets Delegates
To Learn Views

BY WILLIAM OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats predicted today the U.N. Security Council would invite both North and South Viet Nam to take part in debate on North Vietnamese attacks on American warships and U.S. retaliation.

Council President Sivert A. Nielsen of Norway suspended debate so he could sound out delegates to the 11-nation body on the proposal to hear representatives of the two Vietnamese governments. Nielsen said he believed he could convene the council again Friday to report results.

Request From U. S.
If the Communist North and pro-Western South both send spokesmen, it will probably produce a heated debate on the roles the United States, North Viet Nam and Red China play in South Viet Nam.

The debate opened Wednesday at the request of the United States, which asked for an urgent council meeting to consider "the serious situation created by deliberate attacks of the Hanoi (North Viet Nam) regime on United States naval vessels in international waters."

Wants Both Invited
The question of Vietnamese participation in the debate was brought up by Soviet Delegate Platon D. Morozov, who introduced a resolution to have the council seek information from North Viet Nam relating to the U.S. complaint and to invite North Vietnamese representatives to take part in the debate.

Viet Nam Less Critical Than Cuban Crisis

Counterattack
Fighting Local

BY LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's most serious international crisis so far lacks the quick explosive potential of President Kennedy's Cuban missiles showdown, but Southeast Asia could still cause big trouble in the long run.
This is the opinion of administration insiders who worked both with the late President during the 1962 missiles confrontation and with Johnson in the decision to strike back at North Viet Nam's navy.
As Secretary of State Dean Rusk figures it, the Cuba affair saw the world's two great nuclear powers — the United States and the Soviet Union — on collision course. A push of the button then could have plunged the northern hemisphere into a nuclear holocaust.

Viet Nam Shots
In Viet Nam shots have been fired, but not atomic ones. Hanoi and Peking don't hold a nuclear trigger. And that, says Rusk, makes today's difficulty less of an immediate danger and incomparable "in any significant way to the Cuban missile crisis."

So far, so good. But what will happen later is loaded with uncertainty.

The U.S. counterattack was avowedly geared to keeping the fighting limited. Whether it spreads into a bigger war, say U.S. strategists, is up to the Reds — and they admittedly don't know just what the Communists will decide to do beyond firing a propaganda barrage and making threats.

Will Red China march into Southeast Asia in a massive way? Will the Soviets patch up their split with Peking enough to form a tough united front?

The prevailing theory here has been that the Soviet Union will not rush support to the distant Southeast Asian land where its influence has been losing out to Peking.

Militant Backer
Red China has been the more militant backer of North Viet Nam's aggressions. However, China appears not to have effective military means of replying to the U.S. counterthrust short of a large scale land invasion to the south. That would mean a big war at a tremendous price to her.

Washington hopes the Communist response will be to move more cautiously on the military front. Even with that the South Viet Nam campaign still looms long and costly.

The most dangerous span of the Cuban missile crisis lasted about two weeks. The Southeast Asia danger has lurked for years and even the optimists predict it will be many months before it is licked.

Army Reservists Participating in 'Check' Exercise

Fox Cities units of the 14th United States Army Corps are participating in a nation-wide administrative survey by the Department of the Army tabbed "Ready Check."

The personnel records management survey applies only to Army reservists.

The local units' records were checked in compliance with the exercise and found to be completely intact, according to active Army adviser Maj. Howard Rathbun.

Co. C of the 291st Engineer Battalion currently is training at Camp McCoy. Members of the company will be given personal interviews by Army teams.

Other units based in Appleton include the First Battalion, 274th Infantry of the 14th Division and the 385th Ordnance Co., which is non-divisional.

A predetermined number of reservists in these units will receive, by certified mail, verification reports or questionnaires for completion and return to corps headquarters.

Appleton Council Decides Hospitals Have to Pay Fees

Rejects Third Request That City Waive Building Permit Charges

Appleton Memorial and St. Elizabeth Hospitals will have to pay the city's going rate for building permit fees in conjunction with their multi-million dollar expansion plans.

The city council Wednesday night turned thumbs down for the third time to a request that the fees for the hospitals be waived by the city.

Aldermen took their action during a committee of the whole meeting which followed their regular session.

Earlier in the week the board of public works failed to reach agreement on a recommendation to approve or deny, and referred the matter back to the council for discussion by all aldermen.

'Run About Same'

Building fees to be charged for the St. Elizabeth project will total $1,752. City officials said they did not have the total for Appleton Memorial but estimated fees would "run about the same."

The motion to waive the fees was defeated 11-7.

The majority of aldermen felt giving the hospitals preferential treatment would set a precedent for other non-profit groups to ask for the same consideration.

In other developments, the council:

— Heard a plea from Ald. Al Stogbauer (4th) to have stop-and-go signals erected at Packard and Mason Streets to replace four-way arterial signs.

Stogbauer claimed motorists were not stopping for the signs. The matter was referred to the police department.

— Referred to the personnel committee a request by Welfare Director Merton Ehrlich to have his car expense problem studied. He wants more money for using his car on city business.

— Accepted the resignation of Robert Bastian as superintendent of the city home.

— Rezoned from residential to local business district the east side of N. Richmond Street from the A & W Root Beer stand to the northern city limits.

— Sent back to committee a policy recommendation that would have the city paying guardsmen and reservists full salary while attending summer encampments. Time spent on active duty would not be considered vacation time under the proposal.

Others in the DeWolfe car receiving minor injuries were Mrs. Caroline Pelot, and Mrs. George Prue, both of Pound, and Mrs. Mary Seils, of Marinette. Mrs. Dartsch, who was alone in the car, received minor cuts. All were taken to the Appleton Memorial Hospital.

City Continues Legal Move to Get Property

The City of Appleton will proceed with legal action to take possession of property at 300 N. Richmond St. in conjunction with the Washington - Franklin street extension project.

A letter from Attorney Mark Catlin Jr., representing Mr. and Mrs. Simon O'Connell, owners of the property, was received and filed by the city council Wednesday night.

In it, Catlin suggested he meet with a delegation of city officials to continue negotiations for selling the property. At the same time the city's previous offer of $27,500 was rejected.

Catlin had claimed the city did not submit a legal offer previously to the O'Connells, who at one time had agreed to the sale terms. They were represented by a different attorney then, according to city officials.

A jurisdictional offer of $25,000 for the property has been served on the O'Connells and the next move is theirs.

Catlin claims the owners had two appraisers inspect the property and they came up with $31,000 and $32,000.

By placing the letter on file, the council in effect ignored Catlin's claims.

Hearing Set for Combined Locks

Public Service Commission

MADISON — The Public Service Commission will conduct a public hearing in Appleton Sept. 8 on the question of what compensation should be paid by the Village of Combined Locks for the South Shore Utility Co. in the community.

Village electors voted 302-10 in a special referendum in favor of the village purchase of the small utility and its franchise, at a price to be determined by the state utility regulating commission.

Youth Fined for Pistol Possession

OSHKOSH — Raymond J. Pierce, 18, Santa Ana, Calif., was fined $25 by County Judge James Sarres this morning after pleading guilty of possessing a pistol while a minor. He was arrested in Omro July 16 by police who had stopped him for speeding and saw the pistol in the car.

Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhauser, in (Broehm) does not make the asking a small fine, said Pierce policy or vote and I see no reason about having the pistol and was stillings said.

At this point, Ald. Frederick Ziemann (6th) said he favored police car in an accident at State law does not permit minors to have pistols in their possession.

Two Indian Skeletons, an adult and a child, were uncovered Wednesday by University of Wisconsin graduate students working on the Louis Poehlman farm at Lasley's Point near Winneconne. The area is believed to be a large burial ground dating back to 1200-1400 A. D. Working to unearth the skeleton are Wayne Wiersum, Madison, center, and James Reed, 1336 Waugoo Ave., Oshkosh. The worker at the extreme left is not identified. Heading the group is G. Richard Peske, Madison. (Post-Crescent Photo)

ISLE ROYALE—Once upon a time, long, long ago...

That is the way this story must begin, because we have pieced together a wee story in the broad chapter of this historic island but by bit and assembled it into an almost-entire. And it goes like this: Once upon a time, long, long ago, there was a naughty man who made his living by trading with the Indians who inhabited this part of the island. We do not know his name nor was, and we know that he lived some time between 1845 and 1910.

The trader knew it was against the law to sell or trade liquor to the Indians because, like all Asians, they have a low tolerance for alcohol.

But the trader knew that the patent medicines of the period had a high alcoholic content, and that they were acceptable to the Indians who, sadly enough, would do almost anything for a drink.

The trader would come via ferry to Rock Harbor about 20 miles from the Indian village which was near Birch Island close to the entrance of this cove, a natural drain for the waters of Chickenbone Lake.

Used Light Boat

Appleton Works Board Won't Attend Conclave

Council Throws Out Recommendation To Send Members, Secretary to Event

Appleton's board of public works will not be attending the board said they "hadn't intended to go anyway."

While an alderman estimated that $12,000 to $14,000 was spent by the city last year on conventions for officials and delegation committee to send the parliament heads, there is no to-board and its secretary, City Clerk Elden Broehm, to the annual Finance Director Donald Hassmual event.

Instead, it authorized Public Works Director Robert W. Bues departmental budget. There is no overall convention fund as to attend at city expense.

When the committee's recommendation was read, Broehm inquired if the clerk was to be included and received an affirmative answer.

Registers Objection

However, Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Skilling (7th) registered objection. The secretary of the board committee for approval or rejection.

Accepts Full Settlement

The council also:

— Accepted $892 as a full settlement for damage caused to a car in an accident at State law does not permit minors to have pistols in their possession.

— Referred protests by some, city employees over the city hall all-must-pay parking policy to the new parking commission.

— Awarded sewer construction contracts to Busse Construction Co., Racine, $50,412, and P & B Excavating, Inc., Appleton, $36,000. Both were low bidders on the two projects.

Full-Time Attorney Closer To Reality

Appleton Council Takes First Step Toward Hiring Part-Time Assistant for Interim Period

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton may have a full-time city attorney by May 1, 1966, or sooner.

The city council indicated so Wednesday night and took the first step toward hiring a part-time assistant city attorney for the interim.

Capping 15 minutes of discussion, the council voted 14-5 to instruct the welfare-ordinance committee to prepare an ordinance establishing part-time the position which will pay $3,600 a year.

Follows Recommendations

In taking its action, the council concurred in the recommendations of the finance and personnel committees and of City Atty. Frederick E. Froehlich, who serves part-time and does not want the job to be made full-time.

Under the proposed ordinance, the part-time assistant would be selected from a list supplied by the Outagamie County Bar Association. The appointment would be made by Mayor Clarence Mitchell, subject to council confirmation.

Ironically, several aldermen who voted to hire additional part-time legal counsel said they realized Appleton needed a full-time city attorney but felt now was not the time to make the change.

Has Private Practice

Froehlich, re-elected to his second two-year term in the spring, previously was an Outagamie County District attorney. He receives $6,980 a year, plus expenses, for his part-time services. His term ends May 1, 1966.

Froehlich also maintains a private law practice. He recently requested help because of the huge volume of legal work that has cropped up in recent months.

Heating Firm Sues Kimberly School District

'Necessary Legal Procedure,' Hamann Says About Action

A suit against the school board of Kimberly Joint District No. 6 totaling $5,352 for work done in the Kimberly Senior High School has been filed by the Downey Heating Co. of Milwaukee.

The suit charges the school district with failure to pay the final payment of a $415,400 bill for heating, air conditioning and insulation work.

Ray Hamann, school superintendent, said today the action is necessary legal procedure to untangle complications brought about by a Downey subcontractor which went bankrupt before work was completed.

Hamann said the school district is unable to make the payment until the bankrupt procedures are cleared by the state industrial commission. The school district has made no official reply to the Downey suit.

The district authorized Downey to begin work on the $2 million school on July 20, 1962. According to the Downey suit, the work has been completed and has received approval of the architect.

Warrant Issued For Musician

A federal warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution was issued Thursday against a traveling musician who allegedly took a guitar and amplifier from an Appleton music store and left the area.

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer said the warrant named William DeMaye, formerly of Benton, Ark. DeMaye is alleged to have taken the equipment valued at $445 from the Reid Music Co. and told store personnel he would return with money to pay for the equipment. The alleged incident occurred July 3.

When the man did not return, Appleton police were informed. Schaefer said DeMaye would be sought by Federal Bureau of Investigation authorities.

He stepped nervously in his light craft and — so quickly! — it capsized. He was tipped into the cold, cold waters and his crates slipped out over the gunwales and floated — briefly. Then they sank.

He managed to cling to the boat and propel it to safety, but he cursed unhappily over his lot, over the investment which now lay harmlessly on the floor of the cove, over the long difficult trip in his overloaded craft, and over the Indians who stood at the shoreline pointing and laughing gleefully at his distress. But everything was lost.

Scientific Expedition

Many years later — at least a half century — a scientific expedition under the guidance of the Oshkosh Public Museum came to Isle Royale in search of a means to draw back the curtains of history.

Equipped with archeologists' picks and metal detectors and diving suits, they moved about the island, especially in the coves and in the places where accidents might have occurred. They chose to dive over some water where it seemed likely

Park Board Hit On Road Decisions

Appleton Alderman Claims He, People Received Unfair Treatment

Ald. John Ayers (12th) levelled a blistering attack against the Appleton Park Board Wednesday night for its handling of the Bellaire Park road construction project.

Recently, Ayers was unsuccessful in getting the city council to override the park board's plan to install a new road through the center of the park.

Ayers also criticized Mayor Clarence Mitchell, claiming the mayor should have interceded in the dispute which pitted Ayers and some residents of his ward against the park board.

Talked to a Ward

However, Mitchell said Ayers was in error. He did intercede. The mayor said, and halted the project until the park board called a special meeting and Ayers was critical of the park board, charging it did not give the case of the people in the Bellaire Park area fair treatment. "At one park board meeting, I, the alderman of the ward, was even told I couldn't speak," Ayers told his colleagues.

"I think it is high time the citizens and the taxpayers have a right to be heard," Ayers said. "All I did was talk to a mower's blades while she was wall—the facts I had were not considered."

Move Defeated

Ayers said that as elected alderman of the ward, he should have received better treatment. Mitchell reminded that at the last council meeting a motion by Ayers to rescind the park project was defeated. "At that time the council gave me no directive to further intercede," Mitchell said. The project is continuing.

Later Ayers said he realized the mayor had interceded at the outset of the dispute between Bellaire area residents and the park board.

Ald. R. P. Groh (8th) told Ayers politicians have to accept defeats as well as victories. "I don't think you have a right to complain too bitterly," Groh said. "You can't win them all and you must be able to accept defeat."

Matter of Principle

Ayers replied his objection was not a question of defeat, but rather a matter of principle. "In this case I feel there was no justification for taking 'no' for an answer," Ayers said.

The council did:

— Deny a request of the First National Bank for a street light in front of its building on College Avenue.

— Authorize the fire department to purchase $3,176 in emergency equipment for the new rescue unit to be delivered soon.

— Approve several sidewalk and street construction projects.

pointive has been before the welfare-ordinance committee for several months for no apparent reason.

Committee members have said publicly they favor a full-time city attorney.

Any Time

The council took its action to add another attorney to the payroll although being told the status of the city attorney's position could be changed legally at any time.

Ald. Harold Hannemann (10th), finance committee chairman, said he was for having a full-time city attorney but indicated the legal load was such now that help was urgently needed.

Hannemann also criticized the Appleton Post-Crescent for "hecking our committee" in editorials.

Ald. Roy Pointer (14th) pressed for his colleagues to make a definite decision as to when the city's attorney's job would be made full-time. Pointer said a full-time attorney was needed now and an assistant could be hired later if required.

Five Against

On separate roll calls relating to the city attorney matter, Alds. John Ayers, Al Fischer, Kenneth Loos, Howard Stumpf and Pointer voted against hiring a part-time assistant.

Originally, the recommendations of the committees did not have a cutoff date for terminating the services of an assistant, merely referring to the position as a "temporary" one.

Froehlich was asked no questions and did not participate in the discussion.

"Am I to assume the office of the city attorney cannot be changed in the middle of a term?" Pointer inquired as the matter came to the council floor.

Go Along With Need

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Skilling (7th), who several months ago pushed for an ordinance making the city attorney a full-time appointive municipal employee, said it could be changed any time. However, she intimated a change should not be made until 1966.

"I go along with the need for an assistant city attorney," Pointer said, "but I also feel this council should commit itself first on a full-time city attorney."

Pointer insisted the finance and personnel committees should have recommended making the attorney's post full-time and then consider hiring an assistant during the interim period.

Girl Hurt When She's Hit in Eye by Object Thrown From Mower

An accident involving a 16-year-old Appleton girl has served as a reminder of the caution needed in handling power lawnmowers.

Beverly Price, daughter of Mrs. Donald Paulus, 2435 N. Lyndale Drive, was taken Wednesday to Appleton Memorial hospital after apparently being struck in the eye by a sharp object thrown by a rotary-type lawnmower.

"All I did was talk to a mower's blades while she was cutting the grass. Although swelling in the eye has prevented doctors from locating the object, surgery will be required if it is found to have lodged in the eye proper," Mrs. Paulus said.

Township Not Surprised By Menasha Zone Action

Move Called 'Legal, Not Unexpected'

MENASHA — "This is a perfectly legal and not entirely unexpected move," commented Amos Page, Town of Menasha board chairman, on action of the Menasha city council to exercise its right to extend its territorial zoning jurisdiction into the Town of Menasha.

The zoning board that must be created will consist of three men from each municipality. Neither group will have control. Both factions must be in accord, Page said.

The Menasha council plans to use this control in the Maplewood district. This includes territory south of a boundary which runs roughly north of and parallel to Midway Road. The northern boundary is legally described as the north line of the south half of section 3 and the north line of the south half of section 2 and north half of section 1 of Township 20 North, Range 17 East.

The rezoning extension will have no direct bearing on the proposed survey of the expressway and bridges across Little Lake Butte des Morts and the lower Fox River. The survey will be conducted at the county's expense, and each municipality will pay its pro-rated share in county taxes. The largest share of the county taxes for the survey will be borne by Oshkosh, according to Menasha city attorney, Richard Steffens. This is due to the largest concentration of population in the area, he said.

Menasha Director of Public Works Robert Poss said the rezoning for the expressway right-of-way will be greatly affected by the jurisdiction since the city can reserve any parcel of land it wishes for this purpose.

The City feels by exercising its jurisdiction into the town, the area will conform to a uniform plan of expansion in zoning or future annexation.

Walleye Activity in Area Is on Upswing, Weekly Report Shows

OSHKOSH — The Conservation Department "How's Fishing" report shows Lake Winnebago is still producing jumbo perch with walleye activity on the upswing.

Wardens Frank Deringer and Donald Knoke report that perch are taking worms and hellgramites but "don't expect them to be every place you drop your line." "Move around until you find the school and this will produce good results," they advise.

Walleyes have moved up on the reefs of Lake Winnebago and are taking deep-running plugs bounced off the bottom, either by drifting or trolling behind the motor. Night crawlers and minnows also are producing good results by drifting very slowly over rocky reefs.

Lake Poygan reports fair to good results on walleyes, northerners and panfish. Waters are normal.

Menasha Men Win Special Recognition For Photographic Work

Two Menasha men have been given special recognition by the Professional Photographers of America, Inc. at the group's 73rd exposition in Chicago.

Works of both men, photographers for Marathon, Division of American Can Co., were selected for the six-day exhibit in the Conrad Hilton Hotel ending Friday.

They are Patrick H. Murphy and R. J. Schuessel. Entries submitted by them were chosen by a judging panel for the nation-wide "best of the pros" print exhibit.

Weisgerber Rites Set

Menasha Alderman Was Well-Known Baseball Player

MENASHA — Funeral services for George T. Weisgerber, 58, former Menasha alderman and well-known area baseball player, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Mary Catholic Church.

Weisgerber, who died Tuesday night after a short illness, was First Ward alderman from April 1934 to April, 1938.

He was shortstop with the Weisgerber brother's traveling baseball team in 1928 and 1927. He played for Appleton in 1927, the year the team won the State League championship.

He managed the Menasha Falcons in 1935 and the Fox Valley League champion Menasha Gold Label team in 1936.

Born May 9, 1906 in Menasha, he was a lifetime resident of the city.

WSU-O Will Get New Professor For Economics

OSHKOSH — A native of Yugoslavia who spent a number of years as cost accounting department head at the H. J. Heinz Co. will join the Wisconsin State University - Oshkosh staff this fall as assistant professor of economics.

He is Dr. William I. Vuchich, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh with AB, MA and Ph. D. degrees.

Born in Yugoslavia, Dr. Vuchich attended schools in his native land, Italy and Germany before entering the University of Pittsburgh. He was a department head in standard cost accounting for the H. J. Heinz Co. from 1951 to 1963. Dr. Vuchich is married and has three children.

The business administration - economics department at Wisconsin University - Oshkosh is one of the most rapidly growing areas at the university, officials said. Dr. Sherman Gunderson is chairman of the department.

Road Deacons Dedicated to Doing Good, But They're Having Trouble

Eagerness to Help Met With Rebuffs, Some Suspicion

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — There is a closed circle of 12 youth in Neenah and Appleton dedicated to "doing a good turn" for motorists in distress, day or night, and they are having troubles.

In their eagerness to be of service they are meeting with rebuffs and suspicion.

A recent scene typifies the dilemma. A man from the Chicago area sat in his automobile, stalled on the shoulder of U.S. 41. Two young men came to a stop behind his car, got out, approached the driver's side, and inquired, "Can we help?"

The reaction was to lock the doors and roll up the windows.

With simple tools the Deacons got the engine started but it repeatedly died, so they pushed the car and its owner to a nearby filling station. The traveling salesman apologized for his first reaction and invited the boys to dinner.

"When two fellows in jackets like yours approach a car where I come from, it can only spell trouble," the salesman explained.

Flat Tire

Another afternoon a young housewife was delayed by a flat tire. Two deacons stopped, offering to help, changed the tire and "by the time the lady had stopped shaking we had her on her way," they said.

The Road Deacons, that is what they call themselves, have been stopping to help distressed motorists day or night. "It is hard to convince people you just want to help, and we feel good after we have helped someone," one member said.

The club has a constitution which states its purpose. "To promote safe, courteous driving in the State of Wisconsin."

All the boys own their own cars and are pledged to keep them in good safe working condition. Each car carries flares, tool chest, tow chain, jack and other emergency equipment.

"We try to learn all that we can about automobiles," one boy explained. "My Dad taught me how to start an automobile using a screwdriver for a jump-adults will forget the "wild er. The fellows who work in young drivers" and remember garages are always willing to give us advice and, we are always borrowing the garage-men's 'dictionary.' We cannot work around garages because we are not covered by insurance... but they are good to us."

Club members pay 50 cents a week dues. New members are admitted by a two-third majority vote. The club meets at 7 p.m. each Tuesday at members' homes in Appleton.

They also hope to have enough fellow Deacons here so

At Neenah High School Chemistry Laboratory Nears Completion Date

NEENAH — Completion of the second chemistry laboratory at Neenah High School is scheduled for Aug. 14, plans drawn up last year by the school administration and board of education show. The work is being done to handle the increased enrollments and student requests for chemistry.

The new laboratory will have 12 student tables providing 24 student positions. Each table is equipped with a sink, storage space for basic equipment, water and gas connections and electrical outlets. There are three fume hoods in the new lab.

The tables were built by Hamilton Manufacturing Co., Two Rivers, and are being installed by the Milwaukee Equipment Co., Milwaukee, successful bidders on the installation.

Total equipment cost is $8,025, and 40 per cent of this amount will be provided by the National Defense Education Act.

Minor remodeling was required in the new laboratory, formerly the classroom on second floor between the present chemistry laboratory and the library. This work was done by De Keyser & Rasmussen, Inc., Neenah.

Plumbing connections were made by the Angermeyer Plumbing and Heating Co., Inc., Neenah. Total estimated cost of the modification is $8,000. A maximum of 10 per cent of this amount cost will be reimbursed by the National Defense Education Act.

The present laboratory may be used for six classes and one presentation class. The new lab is scheduled for three classes and four periods of general science.

Dean Wishoff will teach chemistry and general science for the second year at Neenah High School and Lewis Zielsdorf joins the staff this year, to teach chemistry and general science.

Menasha South All-Stars Trying for National Test

MENASHA — The Menasha South Little League All-Stars will attempt to attain further fame and glory for the city when they compete in the state tournament at Wausau Friday and Saturday.

The Menashans reached the state finals at Chippewa Falls last year and one more step-off two victories this weekend — would move them into national regional competition at Jefferson City, Ind.

Wausau will be the first foe at 4:15 p.m. Friday. Ironwood, Mich. and Eau Claire will collide in the opener at 2 p.m.

The winners will clash for the championship at 1:30 p.m. Saturday while the losers vie at 10 a.m. for third place.

Menasha downed Waupun, 1-0, in its first game last year but lost a 6-3 verdict to Wausau West in the second. Wausau was eliminated in its first regional game at Ottumwa, Ia. 4:30 p.m. today. They will stay at the Ottumwa hotel.

The Menashans have won four in private homes at Wausau.

pleton McKinley and Roosevelt in the area meet and Sturgeon Bay and Menominee, Mich. in the district last week at Antigo.

Ron Haack and Tim Ruelle, each of whom has two victories, are expected to be the Menasha pitchers. Haack hurled the opening game of each tourney.

Other starters include Gary Ruesch, Marc Kiel, Cal Watters, John Walbrun, Chuck Gilbert, Tom Bednarowski, Bill Bertagoli and Chris Reichelt. The latter plays when Haack is on the mound. When Ruelle pitches, Haack remains in the lineup.

Other squad members are Jeff Reimer, Jack Bellmore, Rick Knudsen and Tom Joslyn. Ralph Mueller of Gilbert Paper is its first game last year but lost a 6-3 verdict to Wausau West in the second. # Trader Once Sold Liquor On Isle Royale that an accident could have happened, and nearby to a known site of an Indian village.

Divers Robert Hruska, Owen Jones and John Kuony, plunged down into 12 feet of water. There on the floor of the cove lay the bottles of patent medicines — "cures" for consumption, ailing kidneys, dyspepsia, feeble livers, upset bladders and everything.

Back to Elements
The bottles were still corked, though the patent medicines have long gone back to their elements and are cloudy, brown, grey. The labels, too, have disintegrated and fallen apart.

The cases have washed away, but the names of the medicines were imprinted upon the glass and are still legible.

Directly below the one-time accident were the heavy things the trader carried — a moose knife; a shake knife; an iron kettle, now broken; some primitive nails. The once-crafted bottles of "medicine" floated away a short distance before they sank.

Then, as the crates were away into nothingness, the winds and the waves bouncing on the bottom moved and dispersed the bottles over a hundred-yard radius.

Our trader didn't know, couldn't know, that long after his troubles that day, a group of men with diving suits would find out that his main stock in trade was ersatz liquor, and that his main intent was to cheat the Indians.

Plan to Improve River Swim Area Approved By Little Chute Group

LITTLE CHUTE — The village board Tuesday approved Junior Chamber of Commerce action in helping to revamp the village swimming area in the Fox River at Doyle Park.

The Jaycees plan to meet with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers on plans to improve the area.

The board authorized the village clerk to advertise for bids on a new dump truck. Specifications are at the village clerk's office. Deadline for bids is 8 p.m. Sept. 1.

Clerk Gerald Locy informed the board all village curb and gutter work for the summer was completed and he would begin mailing bills to individuals for work on their property.

City Attorney Post May Become Full-Time

ed to know why the welfare-ordinance committee failed to "report out" on the proposed ordinance it has held since last fall. He directed his question directly to Ald. R. P. Groh (8th), committee chairman.

"I'm sorry as chairman I can shed no light on it," was Groh's terse reply.

Ald. E. V. Krueger (11th), personnel committee chairman, noted that originally the recommendation did not have a cutoff date for the assistant's position.

"We made the change because there is no intention to perpetuate this position forever," Krueger said. "I, too, favor a full-time city attorney and the sooner we get it the better," he added.

Reminder
A reminder that all successful aldermanic candidates in the April election indicated in a League of Women Voters poll they favored Appleton having full-time legal counsel was given by Ald. John Ayers, a first-year alderman.

"I have tried to find out why the delay in submitting an ordinance to the council calling for a full-time post, but no one seems to have the answer," Ayers said.

"I concur with Ald. Pointer that this council should make up its mind once and for all on making the job full-time," Ayers added.

He said there would probably be agreement an assistant would be in order after a full-time attorney indicated the need.

Running in Circles
Hiring an assistant on top of another part-time assistant is like running in circles," Ayers said.

Recently, the common council hired Atty. Robert Sundby of Madison to handle its legal work in connection with labor matters. City officials do not know the terms of Sundby's contract. He could not be reached today to ascertain the fee rate he is charging the city.

Not to be ruled out is the possibility the welfare-ordinance committee — consisting of Aids. Groh, Ahrens, Beyer, Hulman and Stillings — may decide to report out on its previous ordinance, along with the one proposed by the council Wednesday night.

Oshkosh Junior Theatre 'Brigadoon' Production Entertainment Miracle

BY JAY JOSELYN

Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

OSHKOSH—The bonny bairns of the Oshkosh Junior Theatre transported a near-capacity audience of first nighters to the fabulous town of "Brigadoon" Wednesday and are prepared to perform the same entertainment miracle tonight, Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the old Grand Theater.

The youngsters' production of the 17-year-old Lerner and Loewe hit must be pronounced a success with reservations so small they don't really matter. The weight of the story line and much of the melody rests as lightly as heather from the hill on the capable talents of lovely Rhoda Laabs and Jack Kuester, repeating the lead duties they performed together in Oshkosh High School's recent production of "Music Man."

Competent Actors
Miss Laabs has a wonderful voice, finely matched by Kuester's thrilling baritone and both are competent and good looking actors.

Comedy is provided by the flippant Pam Tange and Bob Nowacki who has the seldom seen, natural talent of throwing away a line with the effectiveness of a master angler standing over a trout hole.

The dancing high points, and there were several, were provided by the lithe and sensitive Sally Wonsler, who helped Mrs. Glen Wille with the show's choreography, and the pert Carol Farnell.

Dancing is usually one of the pitfalls for a community theater production of a musical, but "Brigadoon's" highland folk dances provided the juniors with a chance for some really effective ensemble work. In addition, Miss Farnell and her group provided a most effective ballet moment. Steve Brownlea also shone briefly in his wedding dance.

Set apart in a very special category is Mike Florek, who played what came the closest to the "heavy" in this bright piece. He projected his feeling of anguish and anger well and his sword dance with Miss Wonsler was top-rate. It would be wise for theater people in Oshkosh and the Fox Cities area to keep an eye on this youngster.

Special Laurels
Dale Klitzke and Sue Miller must be given special laurels for the fine way they handled difficult jobs. Klitzke had the chore of making the rather extended explanation of the Brigadoon legend and Miss Miller carried off the unrewarding task of providing a pantomime backdrop off which the show's top songs were reprinted.

With this display of talent and beauty, the reservations fade; but they're still there. Gary Fontaine produced a sound, if very young, pit orchestra for that trying task but at times the level of music became the singers' antagonist. Richard Goetzman, although he drew out many fine touches of work from his cast, failed to produce excitement from his people in the big crowd scenes. Glen Boda's settings were topped by the impressionistic forest scene, but the overall effect of his work failed to meet earlier Junior Theatre productions.

But with the wealth of the Lerner and Loewe tunes and sentiments and the attractiveness and talent of the young performers overbalanced such nit-picking and theatergoers should be advised that an evening of worthwhile entertainment awaits them at the Grand. The youngsters' box office should be thronged the rest of the weekend.

Firm Demonstrates How to Extinguish Fire Without Water

A fire department without water may be the fire department of the future if demonstrations made by a Madison firm to Fox Valley firemen Wednesday is any hint.

Appleton firemen participated in an industrial park drill of an expansion foam which would be used to smother fires of most origin.

Appleton Fire Chief Roland Kuehn said the foam can be forced into the flame, expand itself to smother the fire and then dissipate itself. Kuehn said the foam then can be "cleared away" with a vacuum cleaner.

Cost of the foam — $5 per gallon — is high, Kuehn said, but it would save untold costs in water damage which home owners and insurance firms now must pay.

Fire department representatives from Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha, Sheboygan, Rhine-land, Waubesa and Little Chute attended the demonstration.

Public Is Aware
"The public is aware we have a part-time city attorney and I can't see why the Post-Crescent keeps pointing this out," Hanne-ly said.

Hannemann said several years ago he favored making the city attorney's job full-time.

Telephone Expense
As of July 31, $4,934 has been spent, including $4,071 for salary.

The city attorney's telephone expense has increased from $189 a year ago to $381, or work in connection with labor matters. City officials do not know the terms of Sundby's contract. He could not be reached today to ascertain the fee rate he is charging the city.

Not to be ruled out is the possibility the welfare-ordinance committee — consisting of Aids. Groh, Ahrens, Beyer, Hulman and Stillings — may decide to report out on its previous ordinance, along with the one proposed by the council Wednesday night.

Legal Cloud
State statute says the city attorney may appoint an assistant and there appears to be a legal cloud hanging over the procedure now being followed by the council.

Hannemann said the finance committee included a full-time attorney appropriation in the 1964 budget and that everyone was aware that it should be a full-time job.

"Until that position is made full-time," Hannemann said, "I am sure there isn't an alderman here who does not agree that he (Froehlich) needs help."

Hannemann said several years ago he favored making the city attorney's job full-time.

Grass Pickings to Be Picked Up by Garbage Crews

Beginning today, grass clippings will again be picked up by Appleton garbage crews.

The common council made the policy change Wednesday night after aldermen said they received complaints.

When the improved trash collection program went into effect Monday, grass clippings were also included in the pickup.

In the past the grass was collected by garbage crews.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues said he agreed with aldermen and some citizens that grass clippings should be picked up twice a week, rather than once every two weeks.

As in the past, the clippings must be in bushel baskets at the curb.

Okay Transfer Of $27,000 to Court Funds

A resolution seeking transfer of $27,000 from Outagamie County's contingent fund to operation expenses of three courts was approved today by members of the county's Courts and Administration Committee.

The resolution called for transfer of $15,000 to Outagamie County Court Branch 2, $4,000 to Branch 3, and $8,000 to Circuit Court.

The transfers are to be placed in budget categories covering contract services. Committee members said the transfers were necessary due to an unforeseen amount of monies used for hiring of counsel for indigent defendants and jury costs. The resolution will be presented to Tuesday's county board meeting.

Coca-Cola Files Injunction Against Tavern Operator

An injunction against an Appleton tavern owner by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Delaware was filed Tuesday, asking that the tavern owner quit selling a soft drink under the firm's registered trade mark.

Named in the action is Everett G. Corombos, 317 N. Appleton St., owner of the K-C or Modern Bar. The suit charges that Corombos has been dispensing the soft drink when a customer requested a "coke" or a "coca cola."

The firm charges that the action constitutes unfair competition. Lawyers for the soft drink firm stated that Corombos has been requested by letter for three years to halt the practice.

Corombos said today he had no comment to make on the injunction and that the matter is being handled through his attorney.

State Agriculturist To Study Elm Disease

OSHKOSH — Larry Fenton, State Department of Agriculture pathologist, will visit Winnebago County this week to observe the Dutch elm disease situation, Donald Tripp, farm management agent, said today.

The county extension office is the Dutch elm disease coordinator for the county and has arranged Fenton's visit. General observation will be made in all municipalities and rural towns experiencing increasing Dutch elm disease cases.

Telephone Expense
As of July 31, $4,934 has been spent, including $4,071 for salary.

The city attorney's telephone expense has increased from $189 a year ago to $381, or work in connection with labor matters. City officials do not know the terms of Sundby's contract. He could not be reached today to ascertain the fee rate he is charging the city.

Not to be ruled out is the possibility the welfare-ordinance committee — consisting of Aids. Groh, Ahrens, Beyer, Hulman and Stillings — may decide to report out on its previous ordinance, along with the one proposed by the council Wednesday night.

Legal Cloud
State statute says the city attorney may appoint an assistant and there appears to be a legal cloud hanging over the procedure now being followed by the council.

Hannemann said the finance committee included a full-time attorney appropriation in the 1964 budget and that everyone was aware that it should be a full-time job.

"Until that position is made full-time," Hannemann said, "I am sure there isn't an alderman here who does not agree that he (Froehlich) needs help."

Hannemann said several years ago he favored making the city attorney's job full-time.

Some Like Them Hot ... Some Like Them Cold

Served Hot or Cold, this ham loaf and its chutney sauce of sweet and spicy flavor makes a delightful food choice for summer dining. The sauce combines sweet pickle relish, raisins, nuts, mustard and brown sugar.

served either way, these dishes for midsummer meals feature pickles . . . dill, sweet or relish

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

There's an old controversy about what to eat when the thermometer soars. In many hot countries, very hot and spicy foods are served. The theory is that they are more cooling than cool foods . . . but there are those who prefer the cold food and drink routine on hot days.

Americans especially take the cool route to comfort when the weather sizzles. So, whichever 'School for cool' is favored at your house, we can all agree that summer is a season of vivid color and contrast.

It's a good time to reflect some of this vividness in meals . . . a time when a spicy sauce or an extra bit of seasoning tastes especially good . . . a time to dip often into the pickle jar.

Take a ham loaf, for example. There's nothing better to eat, winter or summer. But once tried with today's recipe for sweet and spicy chutney sauce, you'll discover that something's been lacking all these years.

The other recipes show this same touch of color, a texture just a bit different and every one has in it the flavor of pickle . . . sweet, dill or the relish variety. As a result, the dishes are unusual even when they seem to be old favorites such as hamburger or noodle salad or an interesting variation on creamed cauliflower.

As for the hot or cool issue, some of the foods may be served either way and others go with foods hot or cold.

HAM LOAF WITH CHUTNEY SAUCE

- 1½ cups small soft white bread crumbs
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 pound ground pork
- 1 pound ground smoked ham
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 6 drops Tabasco sauce
- 1 egg

- ½ cup light corn syrup
- ¼ cup (firmly packed) brown sugar
- ¼ cup drained sweet pickle relish
- ¼ cup seedless raisins
- ¼ cup chopped nuts
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard

To make loaf, soak bread in milk about five minutes. Add remaining ham loaf ingredients; mix well. Pack into loaf pan, 9x5x3 inches. Bake in 350-degree oven until done, about 70 minutes. Let stand in pan 10 minutes; turn out.

To make sauce, combine ingredients in second portion of recipe in saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil one minute. Serve hot with hot ham loaf or cold with

Turn to Page 4, Col. 7

For Lunch or Dinner, with meats hot or cold, Crunchy Noodle Salad contrasts the blandness of noodles with the crisp spiciness of green onions, chopped pickles, celery and bacon. Either dill or sweet pickles may be used.

Since Cauliflower is available the year around, this dish is called Four Seasons Casserole. For flavor there's curry powder and sweet pickle relish. For texture there are buttered crumbs which form the crisp topping.

Wedding Promises Exchanged

MENASHA — Miss Janice Ann Konezke and William Robert Gerhard exchanged nuptial vows at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. John Catholic Church with a cousin of the bride, the Rev. Dean Dornbroski, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Konezke, 632 Racine St., are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Gerhard, 1303 Lake Shore Drive.

Miss Carole Pecor, a cousin of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jack Konezke, Miss Karen Jedwabny and Miss Sharon Zwickey.

John Suess acted as best man. Jack Konezke, James Gerhard and Richard Shores were groomsmen. Michael Koslowski and Robert Kaphingst ushered.

The Eagles Club, Neenah, was the setting for a reception.

The newlyweds chose New York City, N.Y., for their honeymoon.

Mrs. Gerhard is employed at Marathon Division of American Can Co. Her husband attended Milton College, Milton, and is a student at Wisconsin University-Oshkosh, where he is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi.

reception held at Penn Country Club.

Mr. Baumgart served four years in the Navy and is employed at the Appleton Mills.

The couple will live

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

WEST DEPERE — The National Shrine of St. Joseph was the setting for the wedding at 10:30 a.m. Thursday of Miss Karen Ann Bougie and Raymond J. Brown, route 2, Kaukauna.

The Rev. Blaise J. Peters, O.Praem, officiated at the wedding of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Bougie, route 1, West DePere, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown, route 2, Kaukauna.

The bride's sister, Miss Donna Bougie, attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Joy and Nancy Bougie.

Roy Brown acted as best man for his brother. Dale and David Brown were groomsmen. Marvin Bougie and Daniel VanDyHoven ushered.

Guests were greeted at a reception at Van Abel's Restaurant, Hollandtown.

Mrs. Brown, a graduate of Outagamie County Teachers College, Kaukauna, is completing her studies at Wisconsin University-Oshkosh. She is a teacher at Grant School, West DePere. Her husband was graduated from Gale Institute, Minneapolis, Minn. He is a draftsman at Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co., Kaukauna.

The newlyweds will honeymoon in the Eastern states and friends in their youth in Chicago. The bride said "We sat in the park and read Shakespeare."

Miss Banaszynski is employed at the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. Her fiancé is employed at Bakers Shoe Store.

The couple has not set a date for their wedding.

Engagement Of Daughter Announced

The engagement of Miss Barbara Banaszynski to Robert Lindroth has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Banaszynski, Pulaski.

Mr. Lindroth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lindroth, Shawano.

The couple has not set a date for their wedding.

Say Vows In Catholic Ceremony

Gordon F. Baumgart Jr. claimed Miss Beverly A. Ulmer as his bride at 11 a.m. July 18 at St. Edward Catholic Church, Mackville. The Rev. N. L. Gross celebrated the double ring nuptial mass.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ulmer, route 1, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Baumgart Sr., route 2, Black Creek.

The bride chose Miss Rita Echneder, Appleton, as her maid of honor. Assisting as bridesmaids were Miss Darlene Ulmer and Miss Betty Baumgart.

La Vern Oble, Portland, Mich., attended as best man. Groomsmen were Lawrence Ulmer and Carl Baumgart. Ushering duties were fulfilled by Wayne Baumgart and Roger Evers.

The couple will live

True Love Gets Second Chance

CHICAGO (AP) — A 76-year-old Chicagoan and a Houston, Tex., woman, who sat in the park years ago reading Shakespeare's sonnets before each married someone else now are united in marriage.

The former Blanche Morgan, 69, who became Mrs. Joseph Paskiewicz Monday in a ceremony in a hospital room, had this advice to offer old and young lovers:

"True love always should stand by no matter what cuts

Read Sonnets Mrs. Morgan and Paskiewicz, who was 76 Monday, were friends in their youth in Chicago. The bride said "We sat in the park and read Shakespeare."

mostly the sonnets. I kept the last letter he wrote me 50 years ago for 43 years."

Each was married and reared a family. Each was widowed. They began corresponding after a mutual friend told the former Mrs. Morgan that Paskiewicz had asked about her.

"We wrote once a week, then we started writing every day," the bride said. "And then, he proposed over the phone."

The wedding was set for July 6 in Houston, but Paskiewicz broke a leg, so they decided to be married in Chicago's Henn tin Hospital.

Viet Nam and U.S. Forces Expect Attack

Defenses Braced for Massive Push Tonight by Communists; Jet Fighters Are Positioned

HUE, South Viet Nam (AP) — Powerful South Vietnamese and American defense forces at this central Vietnamese city only 40 miles from North Viet Nam were braced for a massive attack by Viet Cong or regular North Vietnamese units expected tonight.

Grand Jury Indicts Epton

Harlem Negro Says He Is Disciple of China Communists

NEW YORK (AP) — A grand jury has indicted William Epton, 32, a Harlem Negro who says he is a disciple of the Chinese Communists, on charges of advocating violent overthrow of the New York State government.

The indictment, handed up by a Manhattan grand jury Wednesday, also charges Epton with advocating the assassination of police and judges.

The indictment contains excerpts from a streetcorner speech Epton made in Harlem on July 18, only hours before bloody rioting against police broke out. It quotes Epton as saying: "The cops have declared war on the people of Harlem. We should declare war on them and every time they kill one of us, we'll kill one of them."

"We will not be fully free until we smash this state completely and totally. Destroy and set up a new state of our own choosing and our own liking."

"We're going to have to kill a lot of these cops, a lot of these judges, and we'll have to go up against their army. We'll organize our own militia and our own army."

Epton, chairman of the Progressive Labor Movement in Harlem, an extreme left-wing organization, was arraigned before State Supreme Court Justice Gerald P. Cuklin. The justice set bail at $10,000 and scheduled entry of a plea to the indictment for later. Each of the two counts in the indictment is punishable upon conviction by a prison term of up to 10 years and a $5,000 fine.

Annual Sessions Are Proposed for Assembly

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON—The idea of holding sessions of the state legislature at annual intervals to accommodate fast moving affairs of modern government was heard again in the state capitol Wednesday.

The proposal came from a man whose rank is such that he may be able to persuade his colleagues to favor the proposition that has often been turned aside before.

Paul Alfonsi of Minocqua, floorleader of the Republican majority, told a committee on legislative procedural improvement that he has become convinced that the legislature should meet annually instead of at two year intervals as required under the present rule of the state constitution.

Alfonsi said he has become persuaded during nearly two decades of legislative service that such matters as estimating tax receipts, adjusting complex formulas for school aids, welfare programs and others cannot be handled effectively on a biennial basis.

He said more frequent and timely legislative deliberation would also be helpful to the "voter and taxpayer who would know more of what is going on."

The legislative political chief indicated that he is aware of resistance to the idea among other legislators and in outside quarters.

Minority in Party

"I may be in a minority in my own party on this," he observed.

Traditionally, the legislature has met biennially and during most of the state's history the odd-year sessions required about six months of time. As state government problems have grown in number and complexity, however, the sessions have steadily lengthened. In most recent sessions the "biennial" definition has been more nominal than real, because legislatures have met in fragmented sessions. The 1963 "session" for example, which has thus far come to Madison for three separate sittings, will return for a final meeting after the fall elections in November.

League Lists 600 Places of Discrimination

Asks President To Stop Federal Aid Programs There

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The National Urban League disclosed today a list of hundreds of federally-aided programs in which it has asked President Johnson to end racial discrimination.

The list covers more than 140 cities in 24 states. Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the league, submitted it to the White House two weeks ago. He called the situation intolerable and said it must not go on.

The league report contended the aid is of doubtful legality under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, which prohibits disbursements of tax dollars to institutions which bar some taxpayers because of their color.

Federal funds are going to hospitals, schools, public housing projects and other programs in which Negroes are barred either wholly or in part, said the league, which concluded its national conference today.

There was no estimate given of the total funds being allocated but the league said it apparently exceeded one billion dollars annually.

"The right of every taxpayer, whatever his color, to benefit from programs supported by his taxes, ought to be incontestable," Young said.

All southern states were included in the list along with many northern and border states. Among the latter were New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio and Nebraska.

600 Projects

The report cited discrimination in more than 600 public housing projects; in more than 60 hospitals receiving federal Hill-Burton aid; in federally-aided retraining programs; school lunch programs and funds for general educational purposes. It also cited segregated National Guard units in 10 southern states.

More than half of some $100 million paid out under the college housing loan program and $2.6 million through the National Science Foundation went to southern universities which excluded Negroes, the report said.

Asked Compliance

Young, in his letter to the White House with the list, asked Johnson to obtain "compliance." Cutting off federal aid is considered a last step to be taken only if compliance fails, the league said.

The conference heard Carl T. Rowan, U.S. information agency director, call Wednesday night on "my fellow Negroes" to free "the civil rights movement from the taint of street rioters, looters and punks who terrorize subways."

"Demonstrations — with possible rare exceptions — have served their purpose for the time being," Rowan said.

Farmer Hangs His Own Goat

ROVIGO, Italy (AP) — Farmer Martino Ferrari looked out of the tavern window and discovered to his dismay that he had hanged his own goat.

Ferrari bought the goat Tuesday. He was leading it home when he came to a railway grade crossing with the bar down. He tied the rope around the bar and went into a nearby tavern to wait for the train to pass.

Next time he looked out the window, the train had passed, the bar had lifted, and the goat was hanged.

New Circumstances

Soviet Union Walks Tightrope In Southeastern Asia Situation

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — The Soviet Union uncomfortably walks a tightrope in the dangerous Southeast Asia situation.

Anything Premier Khrushchev's government does can be wrong and it seems embarrassed.

The blistering U.S. retaliation against Communist North Viet Nam's torpedo attacks on U.S. destroyers suddenly presented a new set of circumstances for which Moscow may have been unprepared.

Bloc Reaction

Moscow and Soviet bloc reaction was slow in developing. When it came from Moscow it was in the form of a Tass news agency statement.

"Authoritative Soviet circles" denounced the U.S. action as heating up an already tense situation at the risk of broadened war. But this was not yet Khrushchev or the Soviet government. It was as if Khrushchev would have liked to have said to his tormentors in China and Asia, with whom he has been quarreling over Communist strategy for years, that they got themselves into the jam and could get themselves out.

Khrushchev could not do that. The least he could do was, as the Tass statement said, call the presence of U.S. planes and ships in the Tonkin Gulf unjustified and hostile toward both North Viet Nam and Red China.

Moscow seemed to be seeking time to get its bearings, to delay and impede the proceedings in the U.N. Security Council, called into urgent session at the request of the United States.

Trying to get North Viet Nam represented at the United Nations in New York, as the Soviets proposed, could involve long, procedural wrangling.

Much is on the line for Premier Khrushchev. He could hardly do less than he did, which will look like little to the Red Chinese.

The Tonkin Gulf developments had a look of calculated challenge, not only to the Americans but to the Soviets. There is much speculation that Peking was the inspiration for the North Vietnamese attacks. The second one came after a U.S. warning that it would bring heavy retaliation.

Red Quarrel

These developments came at a time when the world Communist quarrel is headed toward a showdown. The Chinese say Khrushchev is too timid to lead the world revolution because he fears a U.S. "paper tiger."

If Khrushchev leaps hurriedly to North Viet Nam's side, he implicitly bows to China's arguments. If he does not, he risks permanent loss of those Communists around the world who believe with Peking that communism can be expanded only by armed revolutionary action.

Miners' Welfare Fund Distributed About $2 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly $2 billion has been distributed in benefits to soft coal miners and their families since the United Mine Workers' Welfare and Retirement Fund was established in May 1946, said an annual report released today.

Pensions to miners 60 years of age and older accounted for almost $1 billion. Hospital and health care for miners, pensioners and their dependents cost another $750 million, the trust fund report said.

At the close of the fiscal year, June 30, there were 64,658 miners on the pension rolls. The $75 million pension they receive is in addition to Social Security benefits.

Trust Fund Provided For 2 Cats, 2 Dogs

AMESBURY, Mass. (AP) — Two dogs and two cats have a trust fund of more than $50,000.

Annie E. Webster, 84, of Amesbury, who died June 8, directed in her will that the bulk of her $68,000 estate, after $14,000 in charitable bequests, be placed in trust for her pets.

The will directed that the dogs and cats be permitted to live the rest of their lives in her home and that they are to be given "a proper burial when they die."

The trust fund goes to the Community Church, Hampton, N.H., after the pets' deaths.

Dallas Adds $20,000 To Kennedy Memorial

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — More than $200,000 has been contributed to the John F. Kennedy Citizens Memorial Drive in Dallas.

Committee Chairman W. Dawson Sterling said Wednesday more than 300 business companies here had participated in the drive, expected to be concluded soon.

Funds will be divided between a Dallas memorial plaza two blocks from the site where Kennedy was assassinated last Nov. 22 and the John F. Kennedy Library in Boston.

In Viet Nam Attack

Navy Pilots Missing Are Both Californians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two Navy pilots listed by the Pentagon as missing after their planes had been shot down in the attack on North Viet Nam are Californians, both 26.

One, Lt. (jg) Richard C. Sather, had been a Navy flier only 13 months. The other, Lt. (jg) Everett Alvarez Jr., had been flying for the Navy since November 1961.

One — or neither — may be the pilot the North Vietnamese claim they captured. A Pentagon spokesman said Wednesday night he didn't know which, if either, was in Red hands.

At the young officers' homes there was the usual mixture of anxiety and hope.

"He seemed to feel that this was what he wanted to do," said the flier's family was holding to the hope that he is not dead.

"We're trying to keep up our hopes," he said.

Young Alvarez was married last December. His wife, Tan-gee, collapsed when she received notification, and friends said she was put under sedation. Alvarez is one of three children and the only son.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was asked in the course of an interview on NBC-TV Wednesday night if he thought the results of the air strikes were worth the loss of two Americans.

His reply: "The loss of one American life is a tragedy."

Sather's sister, Patricia Kriner, 28, of West Covina, Calif. She said that Sather's parents "were for what he wanted."

Sather, who was single, has another sister and a brother.

Berlin Police Chief Suspended

BERLIN (AP) — The Berlin Fire and Police Commission has suspended Police Chief Germaine Beck for one week, it was announced today.

The decision to suspend Beck, accused of failing on several occasions to obey orders of the commission, was made July 21 but was not made known to the chief until a special meeting held Tuesday, officials said. Beck had been on vacation.

Beck has been on the force for 17 years, serving as chief for 10 years.

MARINETTE (AP) — The An-sul Co. announced today that it will build a new $750,000 plant in Marinette to produce a selective weed killer that has proved highly successful in eliminating Johnson grass and other weeds from cotton croplands.

Production capacity for the new facility, to be ready next February, will be 20 million pounds annually of the herbicide, to be called "Ansar."

Youth Found Dead In Plastic Bag

EAU CLAIRE (AP) — Richard W. Halvorson, 16, was found dead Wednesday lying on the floor of a basement room in his parents' home with a plastic bag over his head.

Police said the death was ruled accidental in the belief that the boy was experimenting with the plastic bag.

Play Spins Tale of Magic and Charm

BY JACKIE KRUG
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

From the moment two charming adventurers, named Zar and Zan, bounced onto the stage until the moment they brought down the final curtain by leaping into the aisles and out of the auditorium, an enthralling story unravelled to delight a young audience.

'The Emperor's New Clothes' was given its initial performance by the Appleton Recreation Department at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Madison Junior High School. Two more performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday and 2 p.m. Friday.

Production Well-Done

The musical comedy is a delightful program, enacted by some very talented youngsters. Director Mrs. Anne Glasner is to be congratulated for her work with the actors.

The two adventurers, played by Jim Haugner and David Pearlman, carry out the ridiculous farce of dressing the emperor, Todd Wetzel, in invisible cloth in an attempt to remove a wicked minister from his job. Chuck LaRue ably handles the role of the greedy minister, Han.

Supporting Roles

The impoverished weavers who have been the object of Han's wickedness are portrayed believably by Mary Moder, Laurie Dykema, Nancy Hoffstatter, Glen Cunningham, Donna Dexheimer and Therese Jentz. Bonnie Klitzke enacts the part of the devoted empress. A general in the emperor's army is played by Craig Cunningham.

Music is provided by a well-tuned chorus and its accompanist, Miss Marilyn Jesse.

Fine costuming and scenery help sustain the light mood with flashing colors and easy design. Oo's and ah's greeted the opening of each curtain.

Youngsters in the audience lived the fanciful adventure right along with the characters on stage — what more could a production accomplish?

There Was a Big Difference in the youngsters arriving at Madison Junior High School Thursday afternoon and those behind the curtain. Those coming to be entertained were relaxed and calm, eager only to be entertained. In the make-up and costume rooms, tensions ran high as final preparations were completed. But from the moment the curtain opened, the two groups went down the musical comedy road in Old China together. The trip will be made again at 8 p.m. today and 2 p.m. Friday. ## Double Ring Ceremony Performed MENASHA — The Rev. Ronald Reimer celebrated the double ring nuptial mass for Miss Joan Helen Konetzke and John J. Smogoleski at 10 a.m. July 25 at St. John Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Julia Konetzke, 222 Lake St., and the late Mr. Konetzke. Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Smogoleski, 412 Nicolet Blvd., are the bridegroom's parents.

Thomas Konetzke, the bride's brother, escorted her to the altar. A sister of the bride, Mrs. Richard Wolff, attended as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Scovronski and Mrs. Merlyn Pawlitzky. Miss Laurie Wolff served as flower girl.

Richard G. Wolff, a brother-in-law of the bride, performed as best man. Sharing groomsmen's duties were Carl Gussert and Merlyn Pawlitzky. Guests were ushered to their places by Nolan Smogoleski and Thomas Lingnolski.

Germania Hall was the setting for a wedding reception. They will live at 512½ Third. The couple is employed at the St. George Santa Co., Menasha, northern Wisconsin.

When a playground brings together a group of clowns, it's got a circus on its hands. Monday was Clown Day at Appleton Recreation Dept. units throughout the city, and the youngsters really know their somersaults.

They started with the funniest clothing they could find, carried the joke out with elaborate make-up, and went to their playgrounds acting as silly as real clowns should act.

Prizes went to the fattest, funniest, saddest, most unusual, tallest and smallest clowns, with special awards given the winners of yo-yo contests, dance contests and singing events.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Beauty Enemy No. 1

Tension has become a foremost threat to loveliness in our time. Nothing except ill health is quite so devastating.

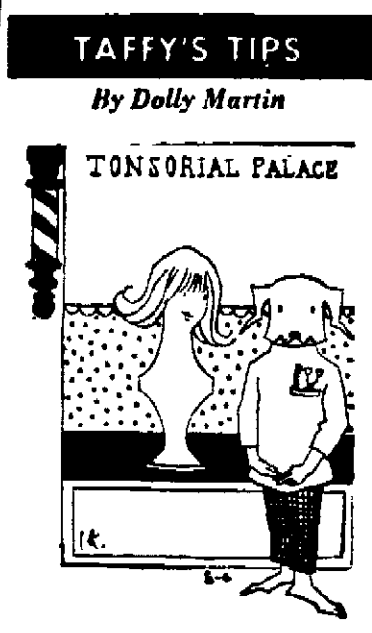

A woman in tension's grip looks, sounds and acts frazzled. Worse, she feels frazzled—jittery, tired and achey. Her zest for work, fun and folk hits bottom.

In view of the consequences, why do women let themselves be victimized by stress? Studies show that avoidance is not easy in this age of jet-propelled activity. There seems to be no one line of defense. Rather relief stems from multiple measures.

The first is an energizing way of life—sane eating, enough sleep, regular exercise and lots of fresh air. The second is a balanced way of living. That means a nice mixture of work, family and social activity, and stimulating personal interests. In other words, to achieve a relaxed attitude, you must have a change of pace.

Even a small break in your stride steadies your nerves and boosts your energy. Depending on your field of operation, at

It's most important to keep the ends from splitting and almost a must before giving yourself a home permanent. However, if you just can't afford to visit the beauty shop, here's what to do: wash your hair, dry it and comb it straight back with no part. Now, have your mother or someone with a good steady hand and an eye for straightness take a good sharp pair of scissors and start cutting.

One of the best haircuts to have, and one which can be styled in many different hairdos, is one cut evenly all over. When the hair is cut with no part you can then have a right or left part or no part at all. A good manageable length and one which you could handle yourself nicely is when the hair is cut one, two or no more than three inches below the ears. Ends should always be blunt. ## Your Problems

Man Uncomfortable Around Woman Who Smokes Cigars

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several months ago I began to take out a very attractive woman who is successful in business and well-known around town. She is gay, interesting and a perfect companion.

Three weeks ago this woman went to Europe on business. When she returned I went to the airport to meet her. Her plane landed 20 minutes early. When I arrived, there she was, sitting in the airport smoking a cigar. It wasn't one of those dainty little cigars, Ann, it was a big black one, the kind pool players and politicians smoke.

When I asked what she was trying to prove, she replied, "It's very fashionable now and frankly, I enjoy it."

I'm a fairly sophisticated guy, but somehow I don't feel comfortable around a cigar-smoking woman. Should I make an issue of it? — Smoke Rings

Dear Ring: They are going to hate me in Copenhagen but I can think of no sight less feminine or more revolting than a woman with a big black cigar in her face — unless it is a woman who chews tobacco.

I don't know the intensity of your feelings about her but in my opinion if your friend values the relationship, she will give up the habit — just because you ask her to.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Are you losing your buttons? Par-ents need all the help they can get in our child-dominated so-ciety. Here you come along and say kids should be allowed to talk on the telephone for twenty minutes every evening. We have three teen-agers in our lunatic asylum called home. This means tying up the phone for one solid hour every evening with nonsense and yakety yak.

Why should these nitwits have 20 minutes? Don't you realize the Gettysburg address can be delivered in about ten minutes? Hamlet's soliloquy takes less time than that.

Because your column is the bible in our house I implore you to take another look at the problem and revise your advice. — Busy Signal

Dear Signal: Teen-agers hardly ever phone each other to recite the Gettysburg address anymore. They generally talk about who went where, with whom, who said what and how, plus other trivia which may sound like a lot of yakety yak to you but to the kids it is the core of their existence.

It's important for kids to be in touch, and the telephone fills an emotional need.

(And now a word for you teens who want to use this as ammunition against your parents. Twenty minutes is the limit, so don't tie up the horn for hours and say "Ann Landers says it fills an emotional need.")

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Am I losing my mind? Tell me please if you think I should see a skull mechanic.

Last week when introducing my father-in-law to a neighbor I forgot his name. I was absolutely horrified.

Yesterday I was rushing to the bus and I began to talk to myself. I said, "slow down. Take it easy." What frightened me was that I answered myself. I know that talking to one's self is one thing, but answering is quite another matter. Help, please — Allison

Dear Allison: I know of no one whose memory has not failed him occasionally. And as for talking to one's self — and answering — we all do that, too. So cheer up and welcome to Semi-Kooksville — where all of us visit from time to time.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the boobytraps of teen-age drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1964) cold ham loaf. Recipe makes eight servings.

CRUNCHY NOODLE SALAD
1 package (8 1/2 ounce) medium noodles, cooked, cooled and drained
2 1/4 cups sliced celery
1 cup coarsely chopped sweet or dill pickle or well drained pickle relish
10 slices bacon, diced, cooked and drained
1 cup thinly sliced radishes
1 cup thinly sliced green or Bermuda onion
2 teaspoons seasoned salt
1 1/2 teaspoons salad herbs
1 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1 medium tomato, cut into thin wedges
Combine ingredients, except bacon and tomato wedges; toss to mix well. Chill several hours. Add bacon and mix carefully. Garnish with tomato wedges. Recipe makes eight servings.

sweet pickle relish
2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese
1/4 cup thinly sliced green onion
1 to 2 tablespoons prepared mustard

To make burgers, combine first eight ingredients and mix well. Shape into eight patties. Broil or grill burgers three to four inches from heat, eight to 12 minutes, as desired, turning once during cooking.

To make topping, combine ingredients in second half of recipe. Mix well. Spoon onto burgers two to three minutes before end of cooking time and allow cheese to melt.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

THOUGHTLESS CALLERS

Dear Louise: A neighbor and close friend is home from the hospital and must remain in bed most of the time during her long recuperation. Last Sunday was her husband's birthday. The physician allowed her to stay up for a half hour to greet five friends who were invited to celebrate. We were asked to come at 4:30 p.m. so that the wife could enjoy the half hour. That indicated that we were to depart at 5 p.m. However, that morning, friends telephoned from a town 30 miles away asking if I would be home as they would like to drive here for a little visit. I explained about the 4:30 to 5 p.m. birthday celebration, and the sick wife, so they said they'd come at 2 p.m. and that would give us time to enjoy ourselves as we hadn't seen each other in two years. They didn't arrive until 4 p.m. and made no apologies for being late. They left at 5:30 p.m. I didn't know what to do but felt that as hostess, I should remain at home. I did not wonder if I was right.

Louise Davis Answers:

You made the best of a bad situation. I don't see what else you could have done even though your friends were inconsiderate, ill-mannered and thoughtless.

UW Extension For Marinette Called Mistake

Group Examining Spending Seeks Closer Study

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Establishment of a University of Wisconsin extension center at Marinette and the more recent authorization by the Marinette County Board of a half million dollar structure to house it were probably mistakes, a legislative committee studying legislative controls over state expenditure policy was told Wednesday.

The comment came from staff consultants of the committee in an illustrative example of what they said is the need for more careful examination of state appropriation requests and their implications when they are filed with the legislature.

Dale Cattanch of the committee staff said the Marinette extension division experience was recently reviewed with the university administration and it was found that the long-range growth prospects of the freshman and sophomore instruction institution there are poor.

The center, which had an enrollment of 67 students last term, can be expected to grow to an enrollment of about 125 by the 1970 school year, it was said.

Cattanch indicated his investigation has shown that the university would reconsider location of the center there if it had an opportunity to do so. But it is now too late, legislators were informed, because of the county's decision to establish permanent quarters for the school.

Discussions indicated enrollment prospects may diminish after the proposed four-year higher education institution is established in the Fox River Valley area, but there is some chance for higher enrollment of students from Menominee, Mich., and vicinity under an interstate compact which would waive non-resident tuition requirements for such students.

'Hotel Universe' Opens Friday at Green Ram Theatre

The light comedy of the just-closed "Come Blow Your Horn" will be left behind when the Green Ram Theatre, Baraboo, opens with the thoughtful drama "Hotel Universe" Friday night.

"Hotel Universe" is one of Philip Barry's better plays. In it he examines the lives of a handful of people with all the world to play in and nowhere to go.

Resident actor Herb Williams will appear as Stephen Field. His daughter is played by Jane Ogden a four-year veteran at the Ram.

Michael Doyle will take the role of Pat. This is Doyle's first season at the Ram. Also appearing will be Julie Portman, Wil Denson and Arlyn Zeller.

"Hotel Universe" runs through Tuesday. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. nightly. The Green Ram Theatre is located on U. S. 12, midway between Wisconsin Dells and Baraboo.

Causing Rhythmic Revolution

BO, SIERRA LEONE (AP)—A modern day music man brought here by the Peace Corps is causing a rhythmic revolution in this West African land.

There was plenty of primitive tribal rhythm but only two organized bands—the army and the police—when James C. Polite arrived less than a year ago. He organized a 40-piece school band, is planning a drill team, tutoring other teachers in music, and launching a widespread music curriculum.

The short, plump Negro hustles around this up-country town on a motorbike. At 48 he is older than most Peace Corpsmen.

He has made such an impact that Sierra Leone officials recently asked the Peace Corps for four additional bandmasters "with Jim Polite's qualifications and if possible his ability."

BO, SIERRA LEONE (AP)—The long run if Sierra Leoneans can entertain themselves with music.

Polite lived at 1701 Delery St., New Orleans, La.

Varied Background

He came here with a varied background as a music teacher, starting when he gave informal lessons to friends in Civilian Conservation Corps camps in the 1930s. He studied music at Dillard University in New Orleans and at Chicago Vandercook College and at Roosevelt University. Polite organized 15 elementary and high school bands and spent three years in U.S. Army musical groups.

"They told me when I came here that these people didn't want music — that they were just hungry for basic schooling and not songs," said Polite. "But I was quickly convinced a music program would work and that there was a real need for it."

Feels Same

Polite feels the same way and, in a land where textbooks are scarce, the schools have ordered $7,000 worth of band uniforms and instruments.

Diahann Carroll Lost Her Pet to Big Money

Nancy Kwan Got Movie Lead in Diahann's Baby 'No Strings'

BY BILL BYERS

NEW YORK — About this time last year, Diahann Carroll was growling as if she were a lioness whose baby cub had been snatched away from her.

The cub was 'No Strings,' the Richard Rodgers' musical which she had started in on Broadway, with glowing acclaim, for more than a year. Her outburst of anguish, printed in the press around the world, came when Nancy Kwan was chosen for the movie version.

"If they had taken another Negro girl for the part, I wouldn't have been so hurt," she said as she relaxed in her comfortable, roomy West End Avenue apartment. "It was a terrible thing to do. But how can you fight big money?"

The actress, as tranquil as a soothed panther, was as tranquil as a soothed panther, to lulling Portuguese music as she calmly dashed into Hollywood and television.

"I think the studios wanted me, but they couldn't get the banks to put up the money for a film using a Negro as its leading player.

"It's the same way in television. I find it awfully strange that some of the biggest names in show business are Negroes, and not one has his own series."

Her own appearances on television have been limited to guest shots, and she has made the rounds of all the bigger shows. Her Hollywood Palace stint on ABC will be repeated Saturday, and she has been set for the Danny Kaye Show in November.

"But a now and then TV spotlight really very much," she continued. "And I'm afraid I'm one singer who doesn't take to traveling around the country, performing in night clubs. It's much too exhausting — and pitifully unrewarding."

Refused to Tour

She also refused to tour with the national company of 'No Strings' (Barbara McNair, another Negroes played the part) and many people thought it was because she had turned against the show after she had lost out on the film (which hasn't gone into production yet).

"Are you kidding? I was just too busy at the time," she said. "I love the show. It's my baby."

To prove her love, this summer she is touring with the musical for six weeks in straw hat theaters on the Eastern seaboard.

'Kindest Words'

With that, Miss Carroll began to sing softly from Mr. Rodgers' score: "But the kindest words I'll ever know are waiting to be said..."

To make her creative entry, Donna solved a scrambled word puzzle, cut out and colored figures of children playing and decorated the entry. The decorations consisted of a real jump rope, real marbles, a miniature kite and artificial tulips. Donna glued these items and the cutouts to the bottom of a box to create her entry.

The four other young readers who won national prizes of miniature vehicles are from Ambridge, Pa.; Jackson, Mich.; St. Petersburg, Fla., and Doylestown, Ohio.

Mickey Rooney To Battle With Dick Van Dyke

Stars in Same Time Period Next Season

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Come fall, it will be Mickey Rooney against Dick Van Dyke.

If television has a boot hill, it is network time periods opposite hit shows.

Perfectly good programs often die from lack of attention. Last season's victims included "The Judy Garland Show," overwhelmed by NBC's "Bonanza," and NBC's "Espionage," which never had a chance against CBS' "Beverly Hills Cop."

This season ABC proposed to lose the veteran Rooney into the ratings battle against the top-rated "The Dick Van Dyke Show."

Rooney, the pint-sized David in the fight, appears unconcerned about what could be an eight-ball position. His "Mickey" series centers about a family, the usual husband, wife and two children, who inherit a resort hotel.

Rooney boasts of the talent behind his series — Arthur Marx, Groucho's son, as producer-writer, and Richard Whorf, the director. But he confesses his admiration for Van Dyke's talents.

"The way I feel," he adds, "is that there certainly ought to be room for both of us."

Jule Styne Predicts Strong Transition In Theater Music

NEW YORK (AP) — Jule Styne, composer-showman, detects a strong swing back to the theater music of 40 years ago.

"We're going through a transition," he says. "The tune style of the 1920s is pushing cheap songs and slow ballads off the best-seller chart."

Styne thinks the phase now passing came about largely and "because for a while everybody tried to imitate Richard Rodgers—and most lost their identification because they didn't have enough basic musicianship. The ones who didn't fall into the trap made it okay."

Styne is indisputably Broadway's most conspicuous tunesmith. Besides supplying the scores of "Funny Girl" and "Fame Out-Fade In," both major hits, he provided music for another recent offering, "Arturo Ui," for Shirley McLaine's latest film, "What a Way to Go"; passing came about largely and "because for a while everybody

Scientists Thinking of Next Major Exploration

BY RALPH DIGHTON
PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists, equipped with 4,316 closeup photographs of the moon, are thinking eagerly of the next major step in man's exploration of the lunar landscape.

It is the Surveyor, a soft-landing spacecraft with cameras that may function on the lunar surface for up to 30 days.

Two more Rangers are scheduled to be launched early next year. Plans call for them to have missions identical to picture-taking Ranger 7.

Late next year the U.S. space agency will fire the first of seven Surveyors, which are three times heavier than the Rangers and have shock absorber legs.

Photographed Craters
The 806-pound Ranger 7 photographed craters as small as three feet in diameter before it crashed on the moon Friday.

The 2,300-pound Surveyor will be able to take pictures of objects the size of pinheads.

A shot in the arm for Surveyor's designers: A study of Ranger photographs indicates no major changes will be necessary in the planned model.

Surveyor's tripod legs should be able to survive a landing on terrain similar to Ranger's impact area — a crater-pocked plain in the Sea of Clouds.

Technical People
Surveyor program manager W. E. Giberson says "we will use many of Ranger's technical people as they come off jobs such as testing and design, with the idea of cross-fertilization between the two projects."

"But we're already well along: We've been working on Surveyor since 1960 and we're quite proud of being able to anticipate some of Ranger's findings."

Ranger's pictures indicate the moon has a hard crust covered with a thin layer of dust.

Giberson believes Surveyor's pad-footed, 6-foot-long legs can settle down on such a surface with no damage to its scientific instruments.

Ranger was designed to crash into the moon and it did. Surveyor has a retro-rocket to break its descent and let it fall free to the surface from a height of no more than 10 or 15 feet.

Two Cameras
Once it lands, its two television cameras should be able to swing full circle and up and down, giving earth scientists a "you are there" picture of the lunar landscape.

Surveyor also will have a claw on an extendable arm to pick up objects as far away as 10 feet and lift them up to the stereoscopic television eyes for three-dimension scrutiny.

Heart of Surveyor's soft-landing system is a 10,000-pound thrust, solid-fuel retro-rocket that will be turned on 60 miles from the moon.

This will slow Surveyor's 9,000-foot-per-second speed to 400-foot-per-second in less than a minute. By the time Surveyor tank has fallen to about 15 feet above the foot pads.

the surface three small liquid-fuel rockets should cut the speed to zero.
Surveyor will drop the rest of the way at about the speed of a parachutist hitting the earth.
With its legs spraddled for landing, Surveyor will stand 12 feet tall and its base, a big fuel tank, will be supported some 18 inches above the foot pads.

Begin Attempt To Gain Control Of Store Chain

Johnson Hill's Director Wants to Buy 100,000 Shares

FORT ATKINSON (AP) — A move to gain majority control of Johnson Hill's Inc., a department store chain headquartered at Wisconsin Rapids, was announced Tuesday by Leo Roethe, a vice president and director of the firm.

Roethe, of Fort Atkinson, said he was offering $12 million to purchase 100,000 shares of the firm's common stock. He said the offer of $12 a share would remain open until Aug. 28.

He was making the offer, Roethe said, because he felt it was "imperative that the management and operations be strengthened." He said that during recent years the firm had acquired "some unprofitable department store units and some additional product lines which are incompatible with its department store operations."

Oshkosh Store

The firm also operates stores in Manitowish, Oshkosh, Marshfield, Wausau, Waukesha and Dubuque, Iowa. Its stock was quoted over the counter at 10 1/2 bid Tuesday morning.

The Roethe announcement, made through his Milwaukee attorney, Walter S. Davis, caught company officials by surprise.

Chester O. Bell, Johnson Hill's president, said at Wisconsin Rapids, "This is news to me. We had a directors' meeting Monday and Leo didn't say anything about it."

Will Resist Efforts

Asked whether Roethe's offer would be resisted, Bell said, "Yes, I would say we will resist his efforts. Just what we will do, I don't know."

Roethe, a Fort Atkinson executive and sportsman, said he was making the tender offer to all Johnson Hill's stockholders other than officers, directors or affiliates. He said he was reserving the right to reject all shares if fewer than 100,000 shares were tendered to the Milwaukee Western Bank as escrow agent by the Aug. 28 deadline.

There are about 328,000 shares of common stock outstanding, with about 1,250 stockholders, according to Bell. It was reported that Roethe owns about 50,000 shares.

Loss Reported

Roethe said that for the first quarter of the current fiscal year, Johnson Hill's reported a loss of $31,532, compared with a profit of $18,346 for the same period a year earlier.

He said that in the fiscal year ending Jan. 31, 1961, earnings were $1.28 per share, but that in the year ending last Jan. 31, they were $1.08 a share.

Computers Save Man-Hours, Not Woman-Hours

BY WILLIAM C. HARRISON
REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)

— When the hand that rocks the cradle no longer rules the world, perhaps the hand that puts together the electronic brain will.

That the electronic brain itself will assume command, a science fiction cliché, seems unlikely because its intricate wiring depends on the fingers of skilled women. Repeated efforts to replace those deft fingers with automated manufacturing methods and materials have failed.

Engineers at Ampex Corp., a computer manufacturer, explain:

The computer's high-speed memory — it completes a memory cycle in one-millionth of a second — is composed of doughnut-shaped rings of ceramic and iron oxide only 30 thousandths of an inch in diameter.

Up to 4,096 of the tiny rings or cores are wired together in complex arrays.

Women at Ampex's computer products division thread hair-like wires through prepositioned rows of cores to construct each memory segment. Then the wired cores are soldered to plastic frames in hundreds of individual connections.

The completed computer can save countless man-hours of demanding and tedious effort, but not the woman-hours that go into building other electronic brains.

Defense Money Bill Sent to President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress passed and sent to President Johnson Tuesday a compromise defense appropriations bill of $46,752,651,000 — about $1.5 billion less than last year.

The bill provides $718.9 million less than President Johnson requested. The final figure is $22 million less than the Senate approved originally and about $7 million under the original House figure.

Packers to Put 24-Victory Exhibition Streak on Line

Light Workout Completes Bays' Preparations for Saturday's Tilt

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Packers have put aside their training pads and scheduled only a light workout today to complete preparations for their National Football League exhibition with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Packers will enter the Saturday night game at New Orleans with a string of 24 straight exhibition victories against NFL opponents. They will fly to New Orleans Friday.

The Packers worked against St. Louis defenses and then wound up their session Wednesday with the training season's first "two-minute" drill.

In the two-minute drill, the offense is given the ball and told to move the length of the field for a touchdown or a field goal.

It took only seven plays to move to the defense's five-yard line, where Paul Hornung stepped back and booted a 12-yard field goal.

Passes by quarterback Bart Starr led the drive as he tossed completions to Hornung, Max McGee, Ron Kramer and Jim Taylor.

At Tuesday's businessmen's luncheon, Coach Vince Lombardi spoke briefly on '64 prospects.

"This is the finest group of all-around football players we've had since I've been in Green Bay. As a squad it's the best," Vince said.

As to last year, Vince noted: "I've said many times that there are only two plays in this league — first and last. We had a good season last year, winning 11 games, but we still finished last."

As to 1964, "Pride of performance and the desire to be the best on that particular day make the difference. I've always believed that there is very little difference in the caliber of each player on a given day. But if we can have pride of performance and the desire to be the best we will have a winning season."

Foxes Win 11th Successive Game, Break Club Record

Chance and Lee Hurl 1-0 Win Over Baltimore

A's Wallop Yanks; White Sox Also Bow Again

BY MIKE RATHET

Dean Chance, who shares his escapades with Bo Belinsky, now has hooked onto a guy to share his shutouts.

Chance usually works alone on the mound but needed a collaborator Wednesday night and found rookie Bob Lee a willing accomplice as the two combined efforts in the Los Angeles 1-0 shutout over the pennant-hopeful Baltimore Orioles.

It was the Angels second successive shutout against the Orioles, their ninth in the last month and their 18th of the season — tops in the American League. And Chance and Lee have had their hands in an even dozen.

Lee, who got to be a reliever with the Angels because he didn't want to be a reliever with Pittsburgh now has shared six shutouts with his Angel teammates, pitched scoreless ball for 23 1/3 innings over a 10-game stretch and lowered his earned run average to a brilliant 1.58.

A 26-year-old right-hander, Lee was in the Pirate farm system until he balked at being a reliever. He became a starter — after taking a cut in salary — and during spring training was sold to the Angels for $25,000.

Lee started the season with Los Angeles as a starter but Manager Bill Rigney soon found out what the Pirates were talking about and Lee went to the bullpen. He hasn't started since May 15, appearing in relief 43 times.

"When they talked of relief pitchers," says Rigney, "I know the Monster (Dick Radatz) has to lead the field, but our boy Lee has been truly fantastic. Bob has excellent control of his good stuff and he was born to pitch as a fireman."

The defeat didn't cost the Orioles in the pennant chase as all three leading contenders lost for the second night in a row.

Art Ross, Hockey Great, Dies at 78

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Art Ross, 78, who guided the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League to three Stanley Cup titles, will be buried in Montreal Saturday after services in Boston Friday.

Ross, a legendary figure in hockey, died in a nursing home Wednesday.

He invented the goal now in use in professional hockey, devised the puck and developed the pad players wear on their shoes to protect the achilles tendon.

Arthur Howie Ross, known to the NHL as Uncle Arthur, was voted into the hockey Hall of Fame 15 years ago after a lifetime in hockey. He played the game for 29 years, including 17 years in professional ranks, and also was a referee, coach and the Bruins' general manager.

He led the Bruins to 10 first place finishes in the National League, developing the Kitchen Kids — Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and Woody Dumart — and the Dynamite Line of Dit Clapper, Conney Weiland and Dutch Gairner.

Mathews' Homer Paces Braves to 6-3 Win Over Reds

Lemaster Credited With 11th Win; Fischer, Jay Will Duel Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves have snapped a three-game losing streak, but in the process proved its possible to win and still continue to lose.

With Ed Mathews' two-run homer the big blast, the Braves exploded for five runs in the eighth inning Wednesday night and defeated the Cincinnati Reds 6-3.

The Braves, still sharing a fifth-place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals, pulled to within three games of third place but slipped further behind league leading Philadelphia. The Phils opened their lead over the Braves to eight games by sweeping a doubleheader from the Houston Colts.

The victory over the third-place Reds was an uphill fight for the Braves who spotted Cincinnati two early runs. Milwaukee starter Denver Lemaster, was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the big eighth, got credit for the victory, his 11th against seven losses.

Lemaster fanned seven and gave up five hits in his seven innings. Wade Blasingame finished up, fanning two and giving up one hit, a ninth-inning homer to Leo Cardenas.

Red starter John Tsitouris was driven out in the eighth, taking his eighth loss in 15 decisions. He and reliever Ryne Duren gave up a dozen hits.

The Reds, who closed their scoring with a homer, had started it the same way — on Don Pavletich's fourth of the year in the second. They added another run in the third. Tom Harper scoring on a single by Frank Robinson. An error by Denis Menke had let Harper get on base and he stole second.

The Braves came to life in the fourth when Hank Aaron singled, got to second on an infield out and scored on a single by Joe Torre.

In the eighth, Ed Bailey bat-

Colt League Baseball Player Dies of Injury

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Robert Arrambide, 16-year-old outfielder for San Antonio Southside's Colt League baseball team, died Wednesday night after being hit on the head with a thrown ball.

Arrambide was attempting to steal second base in a regional Colt League game here Tuesday when struck in the forehead by the catcher's throw. Southside was playing Houston Northwest.

Arrambide was taken to McAllen Memorial Hospital although he was not thought seriously injured at the time. He lapsed into a coma and died of a severe cerebral concussion.

record for the Foxes. The championship team of 1960 set the previous record of 10 straight.

With the win, the Foxes boosted their league lead to 3 1/2 games over the Angels. Tonight, the Foxes will be at Decatur for the first game of a 6-day road trip.

Another fine turnout of 2,818 fans were at Goodland Field last night to watch the Foxes, boosting the 3-game attendance figure for the series with the Angels to 11,778.

Fail to Hit Safely

Those fans who came to see the Angels' high-priced bonus stars, Rick Reichardt and Tom Egan, had little to cheer about. Reichardt failed to get a hit in three official trips to the plate but did drive in a run with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning.

Before that he had struck out twice and skied out to right.

Reichardt was 0-for-11 officially in the series. Egan had a rougher time of it and fanned four straight times against Tom Zink of the Foxes. Egan also failed to get a hit in the three games.

Zink kept the Angels in check for the first seven innings before tiring a little in the eighth. He hit the first man he faced in the ninth and Manager Billy DeMars brought in "Fearless" Fred Beene for the sixth straight

Philadelphia Posts Sweep Over Colts; Giants Down Mets

Mays, Despite Cold, Clouts Pair Of Homers; Pirates Trip Dodgers

BY HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I shouldn't be playing," said Willie Mays "I'm doing it only to help the manager."

It's a cinch Willie wasn't doing it for the New York Mets.

The San Francisco Giants' star center fielder showed up at Shea Stadium Wednesday night nursing a heavy cold and when Manager Alvin Dark made out his line-up, Mays wasn't in it.

But five minutes before game-time Willie decided to play. The Say-Hey Kid then clouted two home runs — his 30th and 31st of the season — and the Giants coasted to a 4-1 victory over the Mets.

"These guys are trying to get Dark fired," Mays said. "I've got to help the man." Mays came to his manager's defense the best way he knew how — with his bat.

"Dark" Position

Dark's position as manager was reportedly shaky following racial remarks attributed to him which appeared in Long Island newspaper. Dark denied the quotes to reporters Tuesday and then held a club meeting to explain his position to the players Wednesday.

"All this should not have happened," said Mays. "What are they trying to do?"

Mays, angry at the reports that Dark might be fired, took out his wrath on the Mets. His fourth inning homer tied the score at 1-1 and before the inning was over, San Francisco had taken the lead on hits by Willie McCovey and Tom Haller.

McCovey tagged his 15th homer in the seventh and Mays clubbed No. 31 in the eighth.

The power show whipped the Mets but didn't help the Giants in the National League pennant race. Despite winning, San Francisco fell two games back of the Philadelphia Phillies who swept a two-night doubleheader from Houston 4-1 and 2-1. St. Louis topped Chicago 4-2. Milwaukee downed Cincinnati 6-3 and Pittsburgh edged Los Angeles 4-3 in other NL games.

The three homers were the first hit by the Giants in Shea Stadium this year.

Herbel Wins

Ron Herbel went the distance for San Francisco, scattering six hits to win his eighth game. Joe Christopher's sacrifice fly produced New York's only run in the third inning.

Richie Allen's leadoff homer in the ninth inning gave the Phillies the second game after sacrifice flies had produced three runs in the opener. Allen tagged reliever Hal Woodeshick's first pitch in the ninth for his 19th homer.

Pinch hitter Cookie Rojas drove in Tony Taylor with the winning run in the seventh inning of the opener. Taylor, who had knocked in the first Phillies' run in the second, tripled and scored on Rojas' sacrifice fly. Philadelphia wrapped it up with two in the eighth.

White's Homer

Bill White's 14th homer, a three-run shot, helped the Cardinals trip the Cubs. Bob Humphreys, who relieved starter Gordon Richardson in the sixth, hurled four innings of shutout ball to preserve the victory.

The Dodgers nursed a 3-2 lead into the ninth but Jim Pagniaro's leadoff homer against Ron Perranoski tied it. After Dick Schofield singled, Bob Miller replaced Perranoski and walked. Bob Bailey, Roberto Clemente's base hit scored Schofield from second winning it for the Pirates.

McCovey tagged his 15th homer in the seventh and Mays clubbed No. 31 in the eighth.

The power show whipped the Mets but didn't help the Giants in the National League pennant race. Despite winning, San Francisco fell two games back of the Philadelphia Phillies who

Trinity Posts Upset Win Over Zion '9

AMERICAN CHURCH LEAGUE

W	L	St	First	St. Mary
Zion No. 1	1	St. Bernadette	6	5
Congregational	2	St. Joseph	4	3
Trinity	3	St. Pius	2	1

Zion No. 1, with the championship of the American Church League safely tucked away, was upset by Trinity, 9-4, Tuesday night.

In other games, St. Bernadette trounced First Methodist, 20-4; St. Pius downed St. Mary, 10-1; and St. Joseph downed Congregational, 9-6.

Dick Lundgren hurled the win for Trinity over the league champions. Starter Harvey Miller was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Dale Humphrey.

The 22-hit St. Bernadette attack included four doubles and two triples. Tom Grishaber was the winning pitcher and he helped his own cause with three hits.

Ken Lang hurled a 3-hitter for St. Pius. Bill Geenen was the loser.

Dick Griesbach rapped a 3-run homer for St. Joseph in the win over Congregational. The losers had 13 hits.

Wally Roock Slams 761 Set In Summer Loop

Wayne Lemberger slammed a 23rd game, and Wally Roock posted a 761 series to share honors in the Hahn's 3-Man Summer League Monday night.

Lemberger finished with a 731 for four games.

The Hahn team (28-12) leads the league, with Slim Otto's six points behind.

Other honor scores included Ed Flood, 747; Wally Moore, 747; Dick Stults, 726; and Dave Schoenhaar, 730.

Same Privileges as Baseball

Pro Grid, Cage, Hockey Anti-Trust Exemptions OK'd by Senate Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee sent to the Senate Tuesday a bill granting professional football, basketball, and hockey an exemption from antitrust laws already granted professional baseball under a 1922 Supreme Court decision.

The measure, strongly endorsed by the heads of all professional sports leagues, grants specific legal sanction to many long-established practices such as the player draft, reserve lists and assignment of franchise in limited geographic areas.

In recent weeks, Senators and House members from both Missouri and Wisconsin have threatened to oppose this bill and seek antitrust action against the National Football League and the National League of baseball if the St. Louis football team and Milwaukee baseball team moved to Atlanta, as had been rumored.

The St. Louis football team has since announced that it has dropped any thought of moving to Atlanta, where a new stadium will be completed next spring.

Lengthy Hearing

Both Senate and House committees have held lengthy hearings on sports antitrust legislation in recent years.

The report noted that under the 1922 Supreme Court decision "baseball now enjoys judicial exemption for its essential sports practices which is not fully accorded to football, basketball and hockey."

Although the bill permits a draft by professional basketball and football of graduating college athletes—such as they now already conduct — the report said this should not "be construed to deprive players of the enumerated sports of the right to bargain collectively, or to engage in other activities for their mutual aid and protection."

Also, the committee report said, the measure does not disturb a 1961 act which "was intended to permit member clubs in the same original sports to pool their separate radio and television rights and permit the league to sell such rights as a unit."

Kiwanis Races Re-Slated for Sunday Night

The Northside Appleton Kiwanis Foundation, in conjunction with the Fox Valley Stock Car Association, will re-stage its Trophy Races at the Outagamie Speedway Sunday night.

A full race card will be on the program, in addition to the Mayor Mitchell Special Trophy race and a personalities race.

Engraved trophies will be presented to the winners in each of the heat races and trophies for first, second and third place will be given for the semi-feature and feature events.

Proceeds from the races will go toward the Northside Kiwanis Charities. The original race night, June 21, was cut short because of rain.

Members of the Kiwanis committee working on the program are Ray Brock, chairman; Joseph Phelps, Ralph DeDecker, Roland Vogt, Harold Schroeder and John Hennessy.

Murphy's '9' Gains Tie for League Lead

Murphy's Corners moved into a first-place tie in the American Fraternal Softball League with Dag's Drive-In after posting a 3-2 victory over Northwest Supply in a makeup contest Monday night.

Murphy's and Dag's are 10-2. Northwest Supply is 8-4 in the National Fraternal loop.

John Kennedy fashioned a 3-hitter for the victors Bud Everts, Dan Bowers and Kennedy collected two hits each for the victors.

Appleton Coated (9-3) retained command of the top spot in the American Industrial loop with an 11-2 win over Elm Tree.

Bob Hietpas twirled a 2-hitter for the win. Hietpas fanned six Gary and Bob Hietpas clouted three hits apiece. J. Fischer added a pair. C. Harbous and B. Conrad had the only safe blows off Hietpas.

Fox River Paper increased its Association Industrial record to 10-1 with a 19-3 romp over Foremost Dairies. G. Schlender and C. Brockman rapped out four hits each. J. Bartman and A. Richmond added three.

Pros Predict 269 Will Win Western Open

Tournament Starts Today With Top Names Among Field

CHICAGO (AP) — Tam O'Shanter's 26-35-71 par was ready to go into mourning Thursday with golf's greatest shooters charging it in the first round of the 61st Western Open.

A field of 153 teed off on the 6,686-yard layout, scene of some of the game's most fantastic tournaments during the late George S. May's promotions, which ended in 1957.

Some of the top players, shooting for winning money of about $11,000, foresaw such par-pounding that the 72-hole Tam record of 269, set by Byron Nelson in 1945 and the course mark of 63, shared by Lloyd Mangrum and Gene Littler, might be broken.

"Given good weather, I wouldn't put anything past these fellows and I think chances would be good for a crack at 269," said eighth leading money winner Mike Souchak, who fired a 68 in Wednesday's pro-am.

Defending champion and master titlist Arnold Palmer doubted that a 63 would be matched.

"But I think there is an excellent chance of taking aim on the 269 record," he said. "I'm playing the course this week for the first time since the last World Championship in 1957. And it is easier now."

In Wednesday's pro-am, Souchak eagle-deuced the 434-yard 13th. His long drive left him needing to play a low second shot under tree limbs to the green 100 yards away. He punched a 6-iron. The ball rolled into the cup.

Jack Rule, a comer from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, also had a 68 with an eagle 3 on the 484-yard second hole. He planted a 2-iron two feet from the pin.

Baerenwald, Martinek And Jeff Martin Gain City Tourney Semis

Defending champion Al Baerenwald, Jeff Martin and Rick Martinek have reached the semi-finals of the Appleton city golf tournament.

Baerenwald ousted Oines, 4 and 2, in the quarter - finals. Martin won an upper - bracket berth opposite Baerenwald with a 2 and 1 victory over Don Sprague. Sprague had edged Bob Stark, Jr., 1 up, in the quarter-finals.

Martinek reached the semi-finals by beating Bill King, 3 and 1. He is scheduled to meet the winner of the Don Scrutts-Jim Hulseizer match in the semis.

In the quarter-finals, Martinek defeated 3-time champion Syl Bayer, 2 and 1.

The finals in the championship flight and all other divisions will be played Aug. 16.

ted for Lemaster and started the rally with a one-out single. Mathews put the Braves ahead with his 15th homer. Singles by Aaron, Rico Carthy and Torre produced another run. Carthy scored from third on Vada Pinson's wild throw after fielding Torre's hit. Duren came on and was greeted by a Felipe Alou single that scored Torre.

The Braves will seek to square the four-game series to night, sending Hank Fischer, 9-6, against Joey Jay, 6-8.

Get ready for back to school sewing... the master who made you one, a SINGER expert will put you into the new sewing machine. We'll give it a thorough inspection, cleaning, lubricating, and in-home adjustments.

7-point tune-up

1. Adjust and balance tension.
2. Adjust fabric feeding mechanism.
3. Clean needle and do-all thread feeding mechanism.
4. Adjust ball tension.
5. Check wiring for safety.
6. Lubricate machine.
7. Inspect and lubricate motor.

If in-shop repairs are needed, you'll get a complete estimate for your approval... and SINGER will lend you a courtesy machine — absolutely free — while yours is in the shop.

What better time than now? Call us today. Let us send a SINGER expert to your home at a time that's right for you!

Food Allergy Likeliest Eczema Cause in Child

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Is eczema incurable? My seven-year-old grandson has had it since he was a baby.
His mother puts a salve on the open lesions. Could it be allergy? His father was allergic as a child. Is there any specific medicine for this condition?
Would food tests help?—G. G.

Food allergies are by far the biggest cause of eczema in children; usually the youngsters acquire a tolerance later, and the problem then disappears. (Egg white, milk and various grains such as wheat, barley, corn and oats are the most frequent offenders.)

Identifying the foods is very important, because then you can regulate the diet to avoid them.

Salves don't do much in the way of a cure, but it is important to prevent the raw, sore places from picking up infections of other kinds. These are secondary infections which can continue even after the original cause has been corrected. If salves are used to forestall such infections and for purposes of soothing the sore areas, that obviously makes sense.

Dear Dr. Molner: I was stupid enough to use a liquid hair remover on my face and neck, thinking it would never return, or would be easy to remove. I have been a nervous wreck since I gradually saw it come back, and I feel it shows on my face where it never did before. Is this the case? What happens if one continues using this hair remover?—MRS. E. S.

There is no evidence that it makes hair come back heavier or in different areas. This feeling you have is probably nothing but the shock of seeing the hair grow again after, for a time, having had perfectly smooth skin. You can repeat the treatments as necessary.

Dear Doctor: My son has used every deodorant on the market, but still has excessive perspiration. He tried aluminum chloride and it doesn't work either, but at least it does not irritate his skin. Could you explain why? What else can be done?—MRS. M.

Aluminum chloride works in some cases in which commercial preparations fail, but there are still some cases in which even it fails. If the principal problem is underarm perspiration, then shaving may be the answer. If there is heavy underarm hair, nothing is likely to work too well. Some men think it is "too feminine" to shave under the arms, but that can be the difference in solving or not solving the difficulty.

A word of warning: No deodorant or antiperspirant should be used immediately after shaving.

Dear Molner: My feet perspire so freely that my shoes turn white on the outside. Could this solution (aluminum chloride) be used safely on the feet?—MRS. L. S.

Yes, it can safely be used on the feet, and a 20 to 25 per cent solution would probably be best. Druggists will make up the solution to whatever strength you request.

Dear Doctor: My teen-age daughter has a perspiration problem and we would like to try aluminum chloride. Can you repeat where to get it and how to use it?—MRS. J. P.

You can have your druggist prepare a solution. In general, continue after the original cause has been corrected, from 10 to 25 per cent (if the stronger solution is irritating, use a weaker one). You might, for example, take the 25 per cent solution, and add water to reduce it to about half.)

Pat the liquid on with absorbent cotton or a small bit of cloth. Then just let it dry on the skin.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Molner in care of Appleton Post-Crescent for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne — The Teen-Age Problem." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Live Within Your Income

Distinction Between Thrift And Miserliness Important

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband is from a family who had to work very hard for the food on the table. In a way, this indirectly has created a great problem between us. He wants to save his money and spend my total earnings which are smaller than his—much! And I feel that how what I make is spent should be decided by me.

I think we ought to save a little from each pay check, but we shouldn't have to stop living and give up everything. When close friends or family treat us, I want to treat them back. But I haven't been able to convince him that he can't hold on to his money forever. We have no children.

I'm not trying to spend all we have, but I feel that there is enough to spend wisely now. I feel we could try to work out something with the help of your "Budget Leaflet." This over-thrift pattern still exists even though it isn't necessary any more.

I would appreciate any advice you can give both of us on our problem.

Tightwad's Wife, Miami

Dear Mrs. T.W.: I agree it is a big problem. Some people mistake miserliness for thrift, but they are two very different things. Saving a reasonable portion of your income allows you to spend the rest with an easy conscience and a happy heart. But trying to save ninety cents out of every dollar is a dismal goal.

I'm sending you my budget leaflet, and as you say, perhaps it would help the two of you to work out a comfortable compromise. Maybe your husband will realize that trying to live on your earnings alone is pretty ridiculous. If each of you save 15 per cent of your income—the average range is from 5 to 15 per cent—you should do very nicely. Since there are no children, you have little reason to strap yourselves building up a sizeable estate to leave to nobody in particular.

However, I think you should be sympathetic with your husband's thrift fixation, and try gentle persuasion rather than a dictatorial approach. After all, he's still suffering from his memories of hard times—hard, no doubt, than any you ever had to live through. Not spending can get to be as sad a habit as over-spending. Breaking any habit takes a bit of time.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a widow and I also have a sister who just became a widow. The question is, should the widow still use the late husband's name? For instance, my sister uses her husband's first name instead of her own. Shouldn't she use her own first name and her husband's last? I do.

Mrs. E. G., Chicago

For her signature on official papers or business contracts, a widow would use her full name for purposes of identification—her own first name, her last name before she was married, and her husband's last name. For instance, Mary Smith Doe. However, in social usage it is proper to use Mrs. John Doe, rather than Mrs. Mary Doe. Regardless of the fact that her husband is no longer living, she is still Mrs. John Doe.

You can get Mary Feeley's handy Budget Leaflet by writing to her in care of Appleton Post-Crescent. Enclose a long, self-addressed envelope.

Boom for Humphrey Moves Fast

Supporters Fear Johnson May Feel He Is Pressured

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's vice presidential nomination boom is traveling so fast some backers are beginning to fear President Johnson may think they are trying to pressure his choice of running mate.

Johnson has made it clear to all concerned he alone expects to choose the second place nominee. He has prodded state delegation leaders to produce statements ratifying his undeniable political right to make his own selection.

From past experiences the Democrats with whom he deals almost daily know that the President is not a man who takes kindly to the application of pressure on him. His belief that preparations in that direction were being made by friends of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was reported to have contributed to his decision to eliminate Kennedy and several others from consideration.

Delegation Support
Humphrey said today in an interview that he isn't turning a spade to work up delegation support.

The Minnesota senator added: "This matter is entirely in the President's hands. He has never discussed it with me. He will make his own decision and the convention will honor it."

Humphrey conceded he had met recently with business groups in Chicago and New York. But he said this did not constitute campaigning for the nomination.

"Old friends of mine invited me to meet with some of their business friends," he said. "I told them the same things I have been saying for years. I have been a free enterprise man ever since I went to work in Humphrey's drug store." The senator was a registered pharmacist.

7 Governors
Humphrey's supporters now count seven democratic governors as favoring him for the nomination: Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey was the latest to join this group. Others on the list as supporters include the governors of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Iowa, Kentucky and Missouri. They think he is second choice in the California delegation if California Gov. Edmund G. Brown is not tapped. North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana delegations also have yielded indications of support for Humphrey.

2 Boys Perish After Cave-in In Rhode Island

Third Youth Saved
Following 2-Hour
Fight by Rescuers

WARWICK, R. I. (AP) — Two 15-year-old boys were buried alive Wednesday night when trapped by a cave-in some 15 feet below ground — where they had dug out an underground room.

A third boy was rescued after two hours of frantic rescue work. He suffered only a minor head cut, apparently sustained when grazed by a rescuer's shovel.

Three other boys had just left the tunnel entrance when the cave-in occurred during a drenching rain. One of them, Bruce Charon, 15, said he fell backward as sand poured over him from the opening, but managed to dig himself out.

Earth Collapses
The victims were Michael J. Kasek Jr. and Frank J. Laprockina Jr., both of Warwick.

William E. Underwood Jr., 13, also of Warwick, was several feet nearer the surface than the Kasek and Laprockina boys when the heavy, wet sand came tumbling into the labyrinth of the tunneling.

"I didn't think about anything in particular," he said later. "But I sure was scared. I was trapped in a kneeling position and couldn't move."

Approximately 50 foremen, police and volunteers worked feverishly to reach the boys. A power shovel and two backhoes were brought in before the rescue was completed.

The Underwood boy said he was buried up to his chest and the other two boys were buried completely.

Sand Keeps Falling
A fireman, Dudolph Kingma, was one of the first persons at the scene. The Charon boy had extended one foot down the hole in an effort to have the Underwood boy grab on to it, but left for help when he realized Billy was too far down.

Kingma dug Billy's arm free but when sand kept dropping in as fast as he could dig it out, he put an oxygen mask on the boy's face and got a rope underneath his shoulders.

More sand caved in and the boy was buried completely for a time.

"I held the mask on with my left hand and prayed," the Underwood boy told rescuers.

He finally was brought to the surface after two hours and 17 minutes of rescue work. Treated at a hospital, he returned to the scene in time to see workers bring up the bodies of Kasek and Laprockina.

The boys had been digging tunnels in the area, alongside a house foundation, for the past four of five years. They were digging a horizontal shaft when the cave-in occurred, the Underwood boy said.

Search Pressed In Mississippi For Killers of 3

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Federal and state authorities today intensified their search for the killers of the three civil rights workers whose bodies were discovered after a painstaking 44-day search.

The state was rife with rumors that arrests were imminent but the FBI would neither confirm nor deny the report.

There was another report — which also drew a no comment from authorities — that instead of arrests a grand jury would be asked to sift the evidence in the case and make indictments as it saw fit.

A pathological report from the University of Mississippi Medical Center here said all three were shot to death. The bullets were recovered, it was reported.

Congo Army Still Fights Red Rebels

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Congolese army troops are reported still fighting Communist-backed rebel warriors on the outskirts of Stanleyville, the main city of the northern Congo which fell to the rebels Wednesday.

Brief messages reaching the Congolese capital from Stanleyville by a roundabout route said the rebels had occupied the city.

The messages added that troops of the Stanleyville garrison were still battling just outside the city in the neighborhood of the airport.

Advised by Chinese
The airport control tower went off the air Wednesday afternoon after a message saying that the rebels had taken over.

The rebels are reportedly being financed and advised by Chinese Communist diplomats in the neighboring capitals of Brazzaville and Bujumbura.

Messages today indicated that U.S. Consul Michael Hoyt of Chicago and his staff of four other Americans in Stanleyville were alive and in good health.

Hoyt, 33, had refused to quit his post "as long as there is still hope." With him in Stanleyville are the vice consul, David Grinwis, radio operators James Stauffer and Donald Parkes, and administrative officer Ernest Houle.

Trucks of paracommandos in full battle gear rolled through the streets of Leopoldville this morning. Other soldiers took up positions outside the capital's main post office and other key government buildings.

Greeks and Turks Exchange Fire in Northwest Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriots battled today with mortars and rockets in northwest Cyprus.

Sporadic firing continued at midday in the area known as Tillyria, a mountainous promontory dotted with small Greek and Turkish villages.

Turkish Cypriots in the area control about 10 miles of coast, their only beach on the island. United Nations observers say the Turks have landed men and arms there.

The U.N. observers declined to estimate whether the renewed fighting meant Greeks were preparing a new drive to oust the Turks from the coast.

A U.N. source said, however, that the use of rockets and mortars appeared significant.

Swedish U.N. troops were rushed into nearby mountains to fight a large forest fire believed touched off by mortar fire.

New Fight Launched Over Health Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-ditch fight to enact a Social Security-financed health care plan for the elderly this year opened today in the Senate Finance Committee.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze appeared to testify for the administration plan which would provide hospitalization, nursing home, diagnostic and home health visit benefits.

This proposal, known as the King-Anderson bill, was beaten 52 to 48 in a Senate showdown fight in 1962.

Negro Comedian Says He Gave FBI Letter on Fate of Rights Workers

HONOLULU (AP) — Negro comedian Dick Gregory said today a letter he relayed to the FBI three weeks ago told where to find the bodies of the three slain civil rights workers in Mississippi.

He said he also has given the FBI a tape recording containing names of the killers.

Gregory had offered a $25,000 reward for the information. He did not name its source.

The FBI in Washington said it had no comment.

Gregory, doing a night club date here, called a news conference and said he had considered the letter phony before Tuesday when the bodies were found.

Assault on U. S. Unprovoked Aggression, Briton Asserts

Moscow Press Moderate in Condemning Retaliatory Action

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Douglas-Home today called the North Vietnamese attack on American warships unprovoked aggression and said the United States was right to retaliate.

The prime minister cut short a Scottish vacation to return to London for talks on the crisis.

He told newsmen at Euston Station: "This was an unprovoked aggression on United States warships in international waters."

"Therefore the United States has the perfect right to retaliate, and it is for the United States to decide what form the retaliation takes."

Confers with Butler
"President Johnson was in touch with me after the first attack, and gave warning that if the first attack was repeated he felt it would be necessary to take action to stop the aggression because unless such action is stopped war may easily result."

The prime minister held urgent consultations with Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler during the day. They examined latest reports from Washington and from British envoys throughout the world.

Butler originally had planned to go on vacation tonight to the Isle of Mull in Scotland. The vacation was postponed for a day or two.

Diplomatic sources said Britain is not contemplating any further action. She gives technical help in South Viet Nam, but is not taking part in hostilities.

The U.S. counter blow drew comparatively restrained protests from the Soviet press.

Moscow appeared to be going through the motions to forestall Red Chinese charges of showing a soft attitude toward the United States.

Moscow papers carried the usual headlines — "Aggressive U.S. actions" and "dangerous diversion in the Gulf of Tonkin" — but some put the story on back pages.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the presence of U.S. warships in the Gulf of Tonkin was "absolutely unjustified" and "an openly hostile act toward the states of this area."

China Sends 200,000 to Border Region

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Communist China sent about 200,000 troops to its border with North Viet Nam recently and now has an estimated 300,000 soldiers in the area. Nationalist Chinese military sources reported today.

Nationalist officials believe the troop movement and restrictions issued last June by Peking on sea travel in the Hainan Strait were connected with the attacks by North Vietnamese torpedo boats on U.S. warships this week.

Submarine Sent Out
The sources said the Communists also moved an air force division of more than 70 planes to Haikow, on northern Hainan Island. Most of the planes were Soviet-built MIG17s and MIG15s, they said.

Earlier, the sources said, at least six Red Chinese submarines were sent to Yulin, a southern port on Hainan.

Earlier, the sources said, at least six Red Chinese submarines were sent to Yulin, a southern port on Hainan.

They said the Chinese Communists flew in the fighters after constructing a field for jet planes in Haikow. The sources believed the restriction on travel in the Hainan Strait was probably to prevent foreign ships from spying on the construction project.

The Chinese Reds last June barred all foreign warships from the Strait and said advance notice of merchant ship movements in the waterway were required.

Hope Abandoned for 5 in French Mine

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP) — Hope was abandoned today for five men still missing deep in the Mt. Rivel limestone mine.

Three different attempts to reach the missing men from the side and above ended in failure, or were abandoned.

Congress Asked To Give Johnson Strong Backing

No Doubt as to Unity
Of American People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked Congress today to approve a resolution which will leave Communist aggressors "in no doubt whatever" of the unity and determination of the American people to defend Southeast Asia.

He told a combined meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees that recent attacks by North Vietnamese torpedo boats on U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin "are no isolated event."

Continuous Red Drive
"They are part and parcel of a continuing Communist drive to conquer South Viet Nam, control or conquer Laos and eventually dominate and conquer other free nations of Southeast Asia," Rusk said.

Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler testified behind closed doors in support of a resolution giving bipartisan backing of President Johnson's military actions in Southeast Asia. A copy of Rusk's opening statement was released by the committee.

The bipartisan leadership plan to bring up the resolution for quick passage in the Senate.

Milwaukee Fire Arson Suspected

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A three-alarm fire roared through a sprawling warehouse used to store cars and trucks Wednesday night.

A fire department arson investigation was begun after small flames were found scattered inside the three-story brick structure, operated by the Winnebago Auto Replacement Co.

Fire Chief James Moher said the blaze was confined to a third of the 150 and 400 foot building, located in the industrial Menomonee Valley near the 16th Street Viaduct.

The first alarm was sounded at 9:05 p.m., the last at 9:44 p.m.

In addition to the U.S. jets arriving in South Viet Nam, two squadrons of fighter aircraft have been ordered to Thailand, a U.S. Embassy spokesman in Bangkok announced.

As a precaution, the United States rushed more planes and ships — including the giant carrier Ranger and 12 destroyers from the West Coast — toward the crisis zone.

Congress Backing Certain
And the President delivered a clear warning to Red China, or any other nation with a nervous trigger finger.

Addressing thousands of persons gathered at the Syracuse

University campus, Johnson declared Wednesday: "To any who may be tempted to support — or to widen — the present aggression, I say this. There is no threat to any peaceful power from the United States of America. But there can be no peace by aggression, and no immunity from reply. That is what is meant by the action yesterday."

Bipartisan resolutions upholding the President's decision to fight back against North Vietnamese attacks were introduced

Chinese Communist May Confine Themselves to Bitter Propaganda Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed its military buildup in Southeast Asia today as officials watched for any clue Red China might ignore President Johnson's warning and start its troops marching.

Many officials here doubted they would. They expressed belief Peking would, in general, confine itself to mounting a propaganda attack, which is already under way.

The Communist Chinese charged the United States with aggression against North Viet Nam and declared "U.S. imperialism" has gone over the brink of war. They said the "Chinese people will absolutely not sit idly by without lending a helping hand" to prevent North Viet Nam from being "subject to aggression."

Ready for Trouble
Secretary of State Dean Rusk termed the situation explosive in the aftermath of the "very successful" American air strikes against Communist North Viet Nam's patrol boats.

"We cannot be completely sure about what the days ahead of us may hold," Rusk said, and the administration braced for a siege of trouble in Southeast Asia.

In South Viet Nam, transports roared out of the Saigon Airport in what appeared to be a giant airlift of troops and materials toward the North Viet Nam border to guard against the chance of an attack.

Planes Sent to Thailand
Activity was reported at a feverish pitch at the big coastal base of Da Nang, 80 miles from the Communist frontier. Six U.S. F102 jet interceptors landed at the base, sources said, and five South Vietnamese army divisions were said to be prepared to fight in the area.

Council President Meets Delegates
To Learn Views

BY WILLIAM OATES
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats predicted today the U.N. Security Council would invite both North and South Viet Nam to take part in debate on North Vietnamese attacks on American warships and U.S. retaliation.

Council President Sivert A. Nielsen of Norway suspended debate so he could sound out delegates to the 11-nation body on the proposal to hear representatives of the two Vietnamese governments. Nielsen said he believed he could convene the council again Friday to report results.

Request From U. S.
If the Communist North and pro-Western South both send spokesmen, it will probably produce a heated debate on the roles the United States, North Viet Nam and Red China play in South Viet Nam.

The debate opened Wednesday at the request of the United States, which asked for an urgent council meeting to consider "the serious situation created by deliberate attacks of the Hanoi (North Viet Nam) regime on United States naval vessels in international waters."

Wants Both Invited
The question of Vietnamese participation in the debate was brought up by Soviet Delegate Platon D. Morozov, who introduced a resolution to have the council seek information from North Viet Nam relating to the U.S. complaint and to invite North Vietnamese representatives to take part in the debate.

Chief U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson said the United States would support any such move.

Congressmen Of State to Back Joint Action

Receive Support in Viet Nam Action

By FRANCES McKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon Johnson will receive bipartisan support from the Wisconsin House membership Wednesday when a resolution is introduced backing up his action in Viet Nam.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay Republican and chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, said that the President's action was the only responsible course which could be taken under the circumstances. "I commend him for it," Byrnes said.

A member of the House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Marshfield, today reiterated a charge he made on the House floor Tuesday that the present situation in Viet Nam is the result of the administration's vacillating foreign policy, which he said, "changes on a daily basis."

Made Prediction

Laird pointed out that the destroyer Maddox was being attacked for a second time just about the time he was making a prediction on the House floor that this attack would take place.

"Unfortunately Mr. Johnson gave the impression to the world that he would take no action in Viet Nam until after the election," Laird commented.

"This attitude invited attack," the congressman recalled that the President had denied that there were any plans in abeyance for extending action in Viet Nam when Johnson was told at a press conference that Laird had mentioned that such contingency plans were in existence.

At that press conference, the President partly remarked that Laird was not a spokesman for the administration on military affairs.

Increasingly Active

"There is no question as far as Viet Nam is concerned that the war is becoming greater," Laird said, adding that the past two weeks guerrilla troops have been increasingly active in the Mekong River Delta in the south.

Laird had emphasized that the firmness displayed by the President Tuesday night was necessary in the conduct of the Vietnamese struggle.

Rep. Clement Zablocki, Milwaukee Democrat and a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, will sponsor the resolution backing up the President in his action on Viet Nam.

Zablocki pointed out "the only way to stop further aggression is to demonstrate firmness." He said that although the United States is not expanding or escalating the war in south-east Asia, we cannot "end up with a title of paper tiger."

Up to Communists

He said the turn of events so far as spreading the war through the Southeast would be up to North Viet Nam and the Communist Chinese.

He said that perhaps the Communist Chinese might have misunderstood certain statements made in the United States by pacifist minded officials that the United States would not retaliate and for this reason the Chinese might feel that they could continue in their aggression.

He pointed out the United States is showing firmness and a resolution to protect its own rights and to attack the enemy and his supplies whenever possible.

Reds Won't Free Flier

Say Return of Kaukauna Man
Not Now Possible

A Pathet Lao representative in Vientiane, Laos, has reiterated a response from the communist Pathet Lao government that return of downed flier Eugene DeBruin, Kaukauna, is not now possible.

The report, coming from the office of U.S. Sen. Gaylord Nelson, said Deputy Chief of Mission Robert Chadbourne had taken American mail to DeBruin and requested he be released and official visitors be permitted to see him.

Chadbourne's report was dated July 16. Sen. Nelson said in a letter to DeBruin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. DeBruin, route 3, Kaukauna.

The younger DeBruin was shot down in Laos Sept. 5, 1963, when flying a private plane containing supplies for royalist refugees in Laos.

Prange's to Build $1 Million Budget Store in Grand Chute

Target Date
For Completion
July, 1965

H. C. Prange Co. plans to build a $1 million-plus budget center store on W. College Avenue west of Appleton's city limits, J. W. Glaeser, manager of the firm's Appleton store, said Wednesday.

In addition to the budget center, the Prange Co. also plans to construct a large warehouse facility on a 37-acre tract of land on the north side of the avenue west of the viaduct in the Town of Grand Chute.

Glaeser said the architect is completing working plans for construction of the proposed store and warehouse facilities in an area which has had considerable commercial development.

Ready by 1965

Construction of the budget store and warehouse is expected to start this fall. Target date for completion is July, 1965. There will be a parking lot at the rear.

The store, having an estimated 70,000 to 75,000 square feet of floor space, will be a 9 at Orihula, four miles south of Fremont. Proceeds will go to the new fire truck fund set up jointly by the townships of Fremont and Wolf River.

The warehouse, containing an estimated 40,000 to 50,000 square feet of space, will be to the north in back of the budget center building.

GOP Leader Cites Ways Calumet Women Can Participate in Politics

Marathon County Woman Speaks to Group in Chilton

CHILTON—A Marathon County Republican leader Tuesday outlined various ways for the Calumet County Federation of Women to assist during the upcoming political campaigns.

Dorothy Gates, Rothschild, told the local group to join various groups, attend caucuses and wage individual campaigns to assist in the campaign of Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee.

A group listed by the GOP leader was the taxpayers league. This delves into the tax spending by local, state and national government agencies, she said. "See how your taxes are spent," she urged the local women.

GOP Committees

She also urged them to join voluntary committees dedi-

ed to the furthering of the Republican party in the state and nation.

Statutory Committees to study legislation also are valuable aids to learn the procedure of government, she said.

Attend local, district and state caucuses in order to play an active role in the state party system, she said.

"Unorganized" Activities

She also outlined "unorganized" activities which could be carried on by the local Republican workers. Just writing to local representatives fulfills this job, she said.

The upcoming campaign, she said, is a real chance to be a crusader for the party. Many things can be done for the party in all the aforementioned ways she said.

At present she is active in Marathon County Republican work. She is a member of the executive board of the Marathon County Voluntary Committee.

Driver in Road Death Fined $40

CHILTON — The driver of a car involved in the April 5 traffic death of August Schmitting, 64, route 1, Hilbert paid $40 and costs Monday in Calumet County Court.

Allen Raddatz, 37, Stockbridge, was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road.

Sale of New London Land Gets Approval

Buyers Plan Possible Expansion

NEW LONDON — A proposed sale of five acres of land on the city's southeast side received city council approval Tuesday.

The land adjoins the Curwood Co. on High Street, and the purchase offer was made by RE and D Inc., parent company of Curwood. The offer for the five acres was $4,200.

According to company officials, the land is wanted for possible future expansion.

The city paid $3,500 when it purchased the land several years ago. The proposed selling price includes interest rates incurred during that time.

The sale was recommended by the city's planning commission and New London Development Inc., a group of promoters for this city's industrial growth.

Recommend Meters

The planning commission also recommended the city install parking meters on all city parking lots. In this way, Mayor Wilmer Schafer said, the people using the lots would pay for them. Furthermore, it would allow the city to increase the amount of off-street parking sooner.

A resolution eliminating the necessity of petitions for curb and gutter work was passed unanimously by the council. Petitions — believed to be too costly — had been required until Tuesday's action.

The council said it would continue to accept petitions only on an advisory rather than a "first come, first served" basis.

Entire Street

Work will be done the full length of any street where it is possible. It is believed this will cut the cost of curb and gutter work.

Three bids were received for fleet and liability insurance. The finance and public property committees will review the bids and make recommendations at the Aug. 18 council meeting.

The board held up action on amending an ordinance setting cost payments of street work until the Board of Public Works and City Atty. Sigurd W. Kostue can draw up a sub-division ordinance.

New Policy

The public property committee was given permission to advertise for bids on coal for the city hall. Replacing of glass in the city-owned building at 103 S. Pearl St. was awarded to Barry Glass, New London.

The council decided the street department would haul brush, and branches only after storms.

Police Chief Jack Algiers, fire Chief Al Schafer, Street Commissioner Art Gesse, Director of Public Works Ray Pelishek and the Board of Health and Traffic Safety committees will form the policy.

Open New Facility For Visitors to Jail

Screen, Barricade to Separate Prisoners From Outside Contact

A revised Outagamie County Jail visitor's system were to be initiated today with completion of improvements in the jail visitors' room.

Heavy iron mesh screening and floor-to-ceiling barricades have been built in the room, separating prisoners from visitors. Sheriff Calvin Spice said there is room for only six visitors at a time, and at no time will the prisoner come into contact with his visitor.

The screening was placed in the room, Spice said, to curtail minor incidents of contraband being exchanged between visitor and prisoner. Before the

Fremont Will Have Closing Hours on Lake Beach in '65

Board Acts on Objections From Police, Warden, Village Residents

FREMONT—Effective in 1965, the village of Fremont will have a schedule of opening and closing swimming hours at the community bathing beach on Lake Partridge.

The village board Tuesday night decided to prepare an ordinance after receiving a petition from a group of people who objected to "loud noises and screams coming from the beach at all hours of the night."

Arthur McArthur, who presented the petition, said a 10 p.m. closing time for the beach is necessary because swimmers and other people at the beach disturb people who live near the beach.

From Other Areas

He said these people at the beach after 10 p.m. come from municipalities which have closing hours at their pools and beaches.

The village board decided to prepare an ordinance immediately despite the fact that the petition was unacceptable because it contained the names of people who reside outside the village.

Members of the board will meet immediately with Village Atty. Ralph Lauer who will draw up an ordinance. Since the law requires ordinances must be read publicly for two months, the new law cannot go into effect until 1965.

State Conservation Warden Lawrence McKevitt said closing hours are necessary as a safety measure and recommended hiring a life guard during bathing hours. With no closing hours, he said, the village is providing a nuisance and would be responsible for accidents which could happen throughout the night.

Police Officer Dale Ludtke said the only prosecutions at the present time were a result of signed complaints. With a closing hour ordinance, he said, a description of the extent of disorderly conduct would not be necessary to take late evening swimmers to court.

Samples Tested

Dr. Walter Neuschaefer, village health officer, said a sample of Lake Partridge water had been sent to the State Health Department for testing, but results of the tests haven't been returned. He said, however, that samples sent to the state in previous years had all been okay.

During the meeting, Edwin Sader, Fremont's representative on the Waupaca County Board, voiced dissatisfaction with village assessments and requested a reassessment of the village.

No action was taken by the board on Sader's request, but he was advised that the action could be started by a petition. The village presently is assessed at about 30 per cent of the state equalized value.

Village President Frank Smith said he favored raising the percentage to enable the village to operate with higher borrowing power for installation of public utilities.

Doll Contest Tops Brillion Park Activities

BRILLION—Summer recreation activities at Horn Park this week included a doll contest Tuesday.

Dolls were judged in three divisions: fashion, baby, and bride.

First place in the fashion doll division went to Debbitt Boyer; second place, Vicki Detert; and third place, Patty Schiles.

In the baby doll category first place went to Julie Wittmann; second, Jan Schmelter and third, Susie Brich.

Kristine Smith, Carol Konyha and Linda Konyha received first, second and third places respectively in the bride doll class.

"Jack and the Bean Stalk" starring Bud Abbott and Lou Costello was the film shown Wednesday afternoon. The annual recreation picnic was today.

Thus far 65 youngsters have signed up for the bus trip to the Milwaukee Zoo Friday.

Citizens Committee Formed to Re-Elect Spice as Sheriff

A citizens committee to re-elect Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spice has been formed, and has submitted a list of officers to County Clerk Mollie Pfeffer.

Chairman of the group is James Ring, 1108 Main Ave., Kaukauna; vice chairman is Lawrence Behrent, 419 N. Division St., and secretary and treasurer is Mrs. Clement Palmbach, 707 N. Clark St., both of Appleton.

The committee will solicit funds and accept donations to be used for campaign expenses. Spice is a Democrat.

Prisoners will be ushered into the visiting room through a door which leads to the lockup section of the jail. When the visit is completed, the prisoner will be taken away through the lock-up door.

When registering for a visit, the visitor will receive a card which will have a number on it. When the number is called, he will be allowed into the room.

Expand Visiting Hours

Spice said that visiting hours of 2 to 3 p.m. on Tuesday and 7 to 8 p.m. on Thursday will be expanded to allow all prisoners enough time to visit.

Spice said he is considering special visiting days for juveniles and their parents. He said juveniles now visit on the same days as other prisoners. He said separate visiting days would prevent the juvenile from association in the visiting room with the regular prisoners.

Only members of the prisoner's immediate families are allowed visiting privileges, Spice said.

The visiting room also will be used by lawyers who wish to confer with their clients confined in the jail.

To Purchase Land at Clintonville Meeting

Representatives Selected for Pigeon River Watershed Unit

CLINTONVILLE — Members of the common council have authorized purchase of land from Mrs. Gottlieb Hardt, for Wm Proxmire and Sen Gay-alley purposes between Fifth and Seventh streets.

Cost of the property is $2,700 maintain scheduled airline serv-ice from the parking meter account.

The council moved the acquisition of the Rosnow property near the north end of the alley to be referred to above be turned over to the board of public works for further consideration.

Referred to Board

The matter of the Haven property on S Clinton Avenue was also referred to the board of public works.

The council voted to accept the recommendation of the board of public works to accept the bid of Yeoman Brothers, Watertown, Wis., for one ex-pel-ant with fittings and con-verting unit for $2,279. This unit is for the Ruth Street li-ft station.

Mayor Frank Sinkewicz ap-pointed Jim Eggleston and Rus-sell Rull, Jr., to be the represen-tatives along with himself from the city of Clintonville on the Pigeon River Watershed com-mission Council confirmed the appointments.

Adopt Resolution

The council adopted a resolu-tion for the city to become a part of the Pigeon River Wa-tershed commission. A meeting of the commission will be held in the near future.

Mayor Sinkewicz reported that a meeting of the airport com-mission is scheduled for 7.30 p.m. Monday at the city hall. Letters were read from Sen Wm Proxmire and Sen Gay-alley expressing their support in Clintonville's fight to maintain scheduled airline serv-ice.

As instructed at the previous council meeting, Mayor Sinkewicz and City Clerk Lloyd Eggleston investigated the matter of the possibly borrowing up to $150,000 for the completion of installation of storm sewers in the city, as one large project rather than completing a por-tion of the work each year.

Replies from both the Clintonville National Bank and the Dairy-man's State Bank, Clintonville, stated the city could bor-row $75,000 at 3 1/2 per cent in-terest, payable at the rate of one-twentieth each year for nine years plus the interest, and the balance the tenth year, or at that time, the balance could be refinanced.

Escort Team

Announcement was made of a meeting of the League of Mun-icipalities on Municipal - Em-ploye relationships on Monday at Madison.

The council authorized the payment of expenses for any of-ficials attending the August 6 mission Council confirmed the conference at New London.

The Clintonville Volunteer Fire department's truck will es-cort the American Legion base-ball team from the Veterans Memorial building to the south of the city limits Thursday after-noon as the team leaves for Ap-pleton to participate in the state tournament.

Bloodmobile to Stop At King on Friday; 80 Pints Sought

WAUPACA — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the King Amusement Hall from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday to collect blood. Eighty pints or more are needed if the Waupaca Red Cross chapter is to fill its quota for the year, according to Morris Smith, chapter secretary.

Last year, residents of the City of Waupaca and King received more blood in hospitals through the Red Cross program than anywhere else in the chapter area, Smith said. Waupaca patients received 291 pints and residents of King, 118 pints.

accident were the heavy things the trader carried — a moose knife; a shake knife; an iron kettle, now broken; some primitive nails. The once - crated bottles of "medicine" floated away a short distance before they sank.

Then, as the crates were away into nothingness, the winds and the waves bouncing on the bottom moved and dispersed the bottles over a hundred-yard radius.

Our trader didn't know, couldn't know, that long after his troubles that day, a group of men with diving suits would find out that his main stock in trade was ersatz liquor, and that his main intent was to cheat the Indians.

That is the way this story must begin, because we have pieced together a wee story in the broad chapter of the big book of this historic island. We have taken bit by bit and assembled it into an almost-entire. And it goes like this:

ing with the Indians who inhabited this part of the island.

We do not know his name nor where he came from. But we know that it was his custom to bring trade goods to the Chippewas, and we know that he lived some time between 1845 and 1910.

The trader knew it was against the law to sell or trade

Kimberly Board Sets New Meeting Date

KIMBERLY — The village board Monday voted to set its next meeting for Sept. 14 in- elements and are cloudy, brown, instead of Sept. 7, the date of the grey. The labels, too, have dis- integrated and fallen apart.

liquor to the Indians because, like all Asians, they have a low tolerance for alcohol.

But the trader knew that the patent medicines of the period had a high alcoholic content, and that they were acceptable to the Indians who, sadly enough, would do almost anything for a drink.

The trader would come via ferry to Rock Harbor about 20 miles from the Indian village which was near Birch Island close to the entrance of this cove, a natural drain for the waters of Chickenbone Lake.

Used Light Boat

From Rock Harbor, our trader transferred his trade goods to a light boat which was sturdy enough to withstand the buffeting of the waves of Lake Superior.

On a clear, quiet day he set out with his light boat laden with trade goods — patent medicines. He made the 20 miles without serious mishap but his crates were slid here and there in the boat so that when he finally reached the safety of the cove and was on the lee side of Birch Island, he stood up to rearrange the cases.

He stepped nervously in his light craft and — so quickly! — it capsized. He was tipped into the cold, cold waters and his crates slipped out over the gunwales and floated — briefly. Then they sank.

He managed to cling to the boat and propel it to safety, but he cursed unhappily over his lot, over the investment which now lay harmlessly on the floor of the cove, over the long difficult trip in his over-laden craft, and over the Indians who stood at the shoreline pointing and laughing gleefully at his distress. . . . But everything was lost.

Scientific Expedition
Many years later — at least a half century — a scientific expedition under the guidance of the Oshkosh Public Museum came to Isle Royale in search of a means to draw back the curtains of history.

Equipped with archeologists picks and metal detectors and diving suits, they moved about the island, especially in the coves and in the places where accidents might have occurred.

They chose to dive over some water where it seemed likely that an accident could have happened, and nearby to a known site of an Indian village. Divers Robt. Hruska, Owen Jones and John Kuony, plunged down into 12 feet of water.

There on the floor of the cove lay the bottles of patent medicines — "cures" for consumption, ailing kidneys, dyspepsia, feeble livers, upset bladders and everything

Back to Elements

The bottles were still corked, though the patent medicines have long gone back to their elements and are cloudy, brown, integrated and fallen apart. The cases have washed away, but the names of the medicines were imprinted upon the vote registration at the village clerk's office.

Death in Mississippi

The discovery of the bodies of the three civil rights workers in Mississippi was no surprise. It has been obvious for weeks that they met with foul play, apparently at the hands of segregationists who consider murder a reasonable weapon in trying to maintain a way of life. But there is shock around the country nevertheless.

Of course, murder by friends, degenerates and the amorals occurs every day in the United States. But such crimes are in spite of the opinion of society and are opposed by society. The dreadful aspect of the murder of the civil rights workers is that it has been often unconsciously condoned by much of the deep south for generations. Violence was used in Alabama and Mississippi to keep the Negro in his place long before the Supreme Court ruled that school segregation was unconstitutional.

It compares with the decision to kill a white person—any white person—by some Negro groups in northern cities. It is an effort to rule by terror.

The civil rights workers in Mississippi may not be helping to ease racial tensions or even to help improve Negro opportunities in the state. The antagonisms they arouse may make things worse for some Negroes after the workers go back to their college campuses in the fall. We have reservations that even voter registration can be best achieved in this manner.

But the fact that the civil rights workers are in physical danger of beatings, unprotected by the police and even losing their lives, is a disgrace for the United States. The reliance upon violence and mistreatment denies the white argument in the south that the white man is further removed from the jungle than the Negro.

Appleton Continues Sound Growth

Appleton has had another healthy increase in its assessed valuation—$5,195,000 worth to be exact—boosting the city's real estate and personal property total to a record-shattering $150,308,600.

The increase during the period May 1, 1963 to May 1, 1964, reflects the bustling economy and steady growth of the community. Revenues derived from the boost should help keep the tax rate in line.

Residents of Appleton can feel fortunate that they live in a city where new construction and business in general appears to be faring much better than in many municipalities of comparable and even larger size.

However, City Assessor John Pierre let it be known that new factors are starting to enter the Appleton tax base picture. Although a considerable amount of new building is being added to the rolls, there has been some chipping away at the base with the relocation of a few industries outside the city and some reduction in personal property inventories.

Appleton, the hub of the Fox Cities, may be starting to feel some of the growing pangs that are common to areas nearing metropolitan status. Milwaukee, for example, has had running problems for years with some of its suburban communities who lured industries away from the big city and dented its tax base.

It is historical that cities in the center of a growing, prospering region eventually find themselves competing with so-called bordering "tax islands", all vying for the industrial tax dollar.

While Appleton industries are expanding by leaps and bounds, and new construction records are being set annually, it still can't afford to lose any industry. This is an economic fact of life.

In 1963 before the new factors upset the picture, Pierre was predicting that Appleton could look forward to an $8 million to $10 million increase in valuation this year. However, he says now that all things considered, we can look forward to the big boost in 1965.

City and community leaders in the meantime should continue to assist old industries with plans for relocation so they remain and build in Appleton.

Expanding Federal Aid to Education

Several years ago, when the Russians successfully launched their first Sputnik into orbit, something like panic descended upon the United States. A basic fault was found in our educational processes and schools were urged to put more emphasis upon the scientific fields. To this end, the National Defense Education Act was passed. One section has provided funds for secondary schools for the purchase of materials and equipment in the fields of science, mathematics and foreign language.

Now that Ranger 7 has taken effective pictures of the moon, we hear from Washington that we have a good lead on the Russians in space exploration. Does that mean that Congress will allow the N.D.E.A. to expire as it is supposed to next June? Not at all. In fact there are bills before both the Senate and the House to expand the provisions instead.

In actual fact, the restrictions of help to only three fields made sense at the time because it was the only type of such aid that could have avoided the general antagonism toward federal aid to education. There have been varying programs of such aid for more than 40 years. But the efforts of strong advocates of federal aid to chip away at local responsibilities has developed an understandable resistance.

The strength of a nation's educational program depends upon how well it fills the needs of all students. And to that end the poet and the prospective lawyer are equally as important as the nuclear physicist or the diplomat.

The new N.D.E.A. as proposed will extend assistance into the fields of history, geography, English, civics and remedial reading. There are other provisions, too, expanding loans and grants to college students and the forgiveness of up to 50 percent of the loan to those who go into teaching.

But are the expansions really justified? Certainly a lot more schools have a lot better equipment in science and language laboratories than they probably would have without the original legislation. But the fields into which it now proposes to enter are not reliant upon equipment as much as upon imaginative and able teachers, administrators and school board members. More money for equipment will do little or nothing to fill that particular need. We also question the matter of forgiving part of the loan to a teacher. Is it not likely to encourage the inept to go into teaching instead of the able and dedicated? There continues to be a shortage of teachers in some fields but there are shortages of other types of professional workers too.

There has been little opposition to the extension and expansion of the N.D.E.A. It once again proves that a federal program, once on the books, not only stays there regardless of expiration dates, but grows and grows long after the real reasons for its adoption have been forgotten.

'Significant Rebel Admissions'

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Aug. 11, 1964.

The rebels know how to keep their secrets, but once in a while they inadvertently reveal something of their condition. The most important revelation of this kind which we have lately met with is contained in the following extract from the Richmond Whig for the 21st of July, commenting upon the displacement of rebel Gen. Johnston:

"Hood's abilities may be adequate to the task assigned him. We trust so. He may possess the confidence of the army to a greater degree than Johnston. We doubt it."

"But the case does not admit of experiments. Too much is at stake. It may be true that as the day for old fogies such as Lee, Beauregard and Johnston is passed, and the time has come for young men of the Dick Taylor, Hoke and Hood stamp to lead our armies to Napoleonic victories."

Guy R. Krumm, athletic director at Krumm High School since 1933, was named basketball coach at Kaukauna High School. Krumm was graduated from Arcene High School and Central State Teachers College at Stevens Point.

Sports Editor Gordon R. McIntyre wrote that day: "There was moan at the plant, the office the garage, on the buses, on the poles and in the sales department of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. today as the softballers talked over their 22 to 7 shellacking from the Appleton Post-Crescent team the previous night." "Joe Bloke," the much publicized Post-Crescent hurler, turned out to be Eddie Mitchell, identified by "Singer" McClone from the old Third Ward. Before the game started, Hilbert J. Weller, guiding light of the Powers, was presented officially with a crying towel.

L. J. Merl contained the Kaukauna Rotarians' golf team and A. M. Mongin Jr. the Lions' contingent at the annual match between the two service organizations. The teams tied in their play on the Fox Valley course, marking the first time in three years the Lions were not victors.

Opposition to General Khanh Rumored Mounting in Viet Nam

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

It is touch-and-go how long Premier Nguyen Khanh can hold onto the reins he wrested from a clique of other generals in January of this year.

The chunky 37-year-old Viet Nam "strong-man" is almost as sorely beset by menacing plots and threats in his own camp as by the Communist Viet Cong's intensifying terrorism and ambushes. It's a grim toss-up which will "get" him first.

For weeks, both Saigon and Washington have buzzed with rumors and reports of a new coup. In Viet Nam, it has long been no secret that high-placed military officers and civilian leaders are hostile to Khanh and want to get rid of him — each for their own reason.

The former ruling generals whom Khanh ousted have never become reconciled to him. General Duong Van ("Big") Minh, who led the coup that overthrew the late President Diem and his powerful brother Ngo Dinh Nhu and in turn was unhorsed by Khanh, was given an imposing but innocuous military post, and other members of his faction were similarly sidelined and dispersed. They are restively biding their time for a comeback.

The civilian leaders are demanding greater authority and control. They contend that while the military are undeniably vital in combatting the Viet Cong aggressors, at the same time they lack either comprehension of or interest in the equally crucial political and economic aspects of this life-and-death struggle.

To the critical civilians, the answer is a civilian regime instead of what they term a "military dictatorship."

IN ON THE ACT — Lately, and highly significant, similar sentiments have been emanating from influential State Department officials, who have been "leaking" them to press sources.

There has been a stream of such inspired stories — to the effect that the "Khanh regime is periled by civilian rift." "Is Khanh getting too tough to handle?" "Grave concern here over Saigon outlook." Others have stressed dissension between Khanh and General Maxwell Taylor, over extension of war to the North.

K. L. Thompson, Neenah, was elected president of the Thompson family when members met for their 22nd annual reunion at Erb Park. Robert Peotter, Neenah, was elected vice president, and Miss Isla Thompson, Appleton, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Marge Zordel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Zordel, Appleton, was preparing for college at Capital University in Columbus, Ohio. She was planning to enter the course in primary education in September as a freshman student.

Chuck Hutchins, Neenah, was named the outstanding camper at the Boys' Brigade Camp at Onaway Island, Chain O' Lakes, near Waupaca. Senior camp awards went to Hutchins, Bob Neubauer, Tom Kuehl, Cliff Houpe, Lyall Stulp, Tom Fahrman: Assistant Secretary William Bundy, brother of McGeorge Bundy, foreign affairs adviser to the President; and Llewellyn Thompson, former Ambassador to Moscow and now special Soviet bloc adviser to Secretary Rusk and the President.

They and other key State Department authorities are credited as favoring a "negotiated settlement" not only of the Viet Nam conflict but for all of Communist- periled Southeast Asia.

It is very unlikely the Johnson administration will attempt to move along that line until after the November election. To do so would instantly incur violent attack by Senator Barry Goldwater. The Republican standard-bearer intends to make "Democratic bungling and dawdling" in Southeast Asia a major issue.

For that reason, the administration will do its utmost to avoid giving him additional campaign ammunition. In the meanwhile, the basis is quietly being laid for later pressing a "negotiated settlement" policy.

One of the primary purposes of naming veteran career diplomat U. Alexis Johnson, who has held ambassadorial posts, as deputy ambassador under General Taylor is to further this backstage plan.

An essential factor in this backstage strategy is supplanting military rule in Viet Nam with a civilian government. This is what is behind the most recent rumor of a new coup out of which will emerge a three or five-member civilian junta, supported by, presumably, anti-Khanh military elements.

Almost anything is possible in hectic Saigon these days.

WHY BOBBY GOT THE AX — Reason President Johnson abruptly lowered the boom on Attorney General Robert Kennedy's surging vice presidential ambitions was the latter's refusal to personally take himself out of that picture. Bobby was given that opportunity. When he balked, the President did it for him.

Following is the sequence of events in this drama. Several weeks ago, Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley, at a White House conference, told the President that three top Cook County labor leaders had asked him to convey the message that they were emphatically against Kennedy being the Democratic running mate. If he was named, the union chiefs "would sit out the election."

This blunt warning was followed by others even more pointed. The Attorney General expressed neither surprise nor ire. He stated he understood the President's position, and they parted amicably.

The next day, McGeorge Bundy, special White House foreign affairs adviser and a hold-over from the late President Kennedy, dropped in on the Attorney General and in the course of a chat "suggested" it would be a good idea if he voluntarily withdrew from the vice presidential scramble.

Kennedy made no reply to this pointed hint. The day passed, and he also did nothing about it.

At noon the following day, the President held one of his "impromptu" press conferences. He was asked what he knew among newsmen as a "house question," and replied with his widely-publicized (prepared in advance) exposition of the qualifications he felt his running mate should possess.

The afternoon passed, and still Kennedy did nothing. To the President, that seemed a clearcut challenge.

Shortly after 6:00 p.m., the newsmen were suddenly summoned and the President issued the statement that flatly and categorically torpedoed Bobby for second place. He asked for it, and he got it.

The only way he now can get on Johnson's ticket is to fight him for it, and that is wholly out of the question — even for Bobby.

hostile to Kennedy from influential Southern leaders who are supporting the President. When he sounded them out about a running mate, all vehemently opposed the youthful attorney general. This unanimous disapproval carried particular weight with the President.

It was followed by another telling labor demonstration. A group of top AFL-CIO leaders, headed by George Meany, president, told Johnson their "first and only choice" for Vice President was Senator Hubert Humphrey.

Pointedly, Meany stressed "and our only choice" — an unmistakable rejection of Kennedy.

In the meanwhile, steadily increasing reports reached the President from all parts of the country or backstage organizing and propagandizing to boom Kennedy for Vice President. It became mounting apparent that a carefully planned and directed drive was underway to put him over — whether the President wanted him or not.

What finally triggered the President into cracking down was information crediting Kennedy as lending a hand to the avowed aim of the so-called "Freedom Party" in Mississippi to challenge the seating of the regular Democratic delegation at the Atlantic City convention. When the President heard that, he moved fast and decisively.

Last Wednesday, he personally notified Kennedy that he had decided to eliminate all cabinet members as vice presidential possibilities. The President said he was individually advising each of them of that.

The Attorney General expressed neither surprise nor ire. He stated he understood the President's position, and they parted amicably.

The next day, McGeorge Bundy, special White House foreign affairs adviser and a hold-over from the late President Kennedy, dropped in on the Attorney General and in the course of a chat "suggested" it would be a good idea if he voluntarily withdrew from the vice presidential scramble.

Kennedy made no reply to this pointed hint. The day passed, and he also did nothing about it.

Wisconsin Report

Both Parties Having Difficulty Recruiting Full Election Slates

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON—There is an old story told by Wisconsin politicians about the young and attractive lawyer who was reluctantly listening to the proposal of a local party committee that he run for district attorney.

Wyngaard

"But suppose I win?" he expostulated. The experience of managers of both parties in Wisconsin lately differs only in degree of difficulty in recruiting good and attractive candidates for the long list of elective courthouse offices, and especially in those districts where one party or the other has a record of winning easily.

It is often difficult to persuade a party loyalist, however keen his devotion to the cause, to run in a locality where he can be virtually certain before the votes are counted that he will be defeated.

But lately a new factor in the recruiting problem has been introduced: even among those local politicians who are willing enough to help out the party cause, there is less appeal in holding these offices. It may be that if the trend continues, the politicians will one day be persuaded to reconsider the idea of partisan ballots. Why should a register of deeds or a clerk of courts or even a coroner be elected?

Why should he, more particularly, be elected on a party ballot? Obviously the only reason is that it is a useful thing for the political party. There is no defensible explanation in terms of operating efficiency of government.

BALLOT VACANCIES

The courthouse slate problem has been particularly difficult for the Democrats during the years of their reconstruction. Republicans have held a majority of the courthouse places for years. It is hard to defeat a popular incumbent who has rendered good service. Yet in the logistics of politics, the Democrats must try to field local candidate slates, nevertheless, for such impact and assistance they give to the more critical and important contests for member of the legislature, governor, congressman and the rest.

Yet after years of strenuous coaxing of such local slates, the Democrats this year have defaulted in about a third of the courthouse places that will be listed on the ballot.

They did considerably better in recruiting candidates for the legislature, even in those districts which are heavily Republican and offer little encouragement to Democratic nominees. There will be only one Democratic vacancy for the Assembly this year, and one for the Senate. The comparatively successful legislative candidate effort may show that local politicians have more confidence in state-house candidates, or perhaps, that legislative pay and emoluments are more attractive to local politicians than in other years. The latter is probably the best explanation.

MANAGEMENT WEAKNESS

The relatively high rate of Republican default in legislative filings, meanwhile, suggests some weakness in the management levels of that party.

It is difficult to perceive how a party can claim majority status when it fails to offer candidates for the legislature in a dozen or so districts, including a couple which are marginal, at the least, in their prospects as against the Democrats. It is difficult to believe that the party could not have presented such candidates in at least half of the vacant districts, with a serious and determined appeal to the local party loyalists.

The heart of the Republican organization problem has been Milwaukee County, as anybody who has studied the election returns during the recent years of its misfortunes can ascertain at a glance. The consistent default of the party in producing candidates — however nominal — in legislative and courthouse places on the Milwaukee County ballot has steadily compounded the morale problem there.

stand the nature of music at all—which is not to evoke a subjective mood on the part of the listener, but rather to put him in the skin of the composer and permit him to identify with feelings that are not his own, but which expand his own range of reactions.

An intelligent person hasn't achieved his full adulthood until he can be at least as kind to dumb people as he is to dumb animals.

At social functions, it is invariably the women who have the least who try to show the most; which recalls Beerholm Tree's description of one of his leading ladies: "She is like a poor photograph — under developed and over exposed."

Advocates of "taking the rod" to children to prevent their delinquency forget that most delinquent boys come from homes where the father is tyrannous, repressive, and brutal: the only child who can benefit from a spanking is one who doesn't need it very much.

No matter how modest we may think we are, each of us at heart is firmly convinced that he is a shrewd judge of character, and it is this unversal delusion that confidence men prey on with unfailingly gratifying results.

"One irrational slogan is worth a thousand facts" is an old Persian proverb I have just made up for the election season.

The basic difference between an artist and an entertainer — which is vague in most people's minds — is that the artist works to satisfy himself, while the entertainer works to satisfy his audience; and great artists rarely command the popular appeal of entertainers, because they do not give the public what it wants but what it ought to want.

The need for superiority is so strong in some people that they can't buy a new type of lightning rod for the house without half hoping for a severe lightning storm in the neighborhood.

Only those who have gone to the courts can properly appreciate Voltaire's wryly rueful remark: "I was never ruined, except twice: once when I lost a lawsuit, and once when I won."

When we stop regarding infidelity as a cause of broken marriages, and begin treating it as a symptom of some deeper dissatisfaction, only then will we be on the right road toward solving the problem of two disparate personalities trying to get along.

When we talk about ourselves, we usually reveal only what we want to. It is when we talk about others that we unconsciously reveal most about ourselves.

Barry's moving fast to promote party unity. He's got a secret weapon — if you don't go along with them, he'll come into your district and campaign for you.

President Johnson plans to campaign on bread-and-butter issues, and if he gets into a jam he'll try to figure some way to use that too.

LBJ has a new campaign technique. He's going to stay in the White House, tending strictly to the nation's business—and shaking 10,000 hands a day through the fence.

Lawrence Says Viet Nam News Clears Part of Political Debate

Democrats Critical Of Goldwater Idea
On Nuclear Weapons

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—From the waters of the far Pacific has come a piece of news that, oddly enough, clarifies a lot of the debate surrounding the Johnson-Goldwater political campaign.

U.S. navy destroyers have been attacked by armed vessels of the North Vietnamese and fought back immediately. The enemy ships were repulsed and several put out of action. There was no telephone call to Washington to ask the civilian commander-in-chief in the White House what to do. The naval commander "in the field" had to use his own discretion, and he quickly ordered the firing of his ship's guns.

President Johnson not only confirmed at once the field commander's right to shoot back, but has since supplemented instructions to the naval forces with orders to destroy any enemy ships that attack them in international waters. The order presumably applies to any Soviet ships as well.

This is analogous to what Sen. Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, has been saying about instructions that should be given to the commander of our forces in Europe. Yet he has been bitterly assailed by Secretary of Commerce Hodges and by Secretary of Agriculture Freeman as "trigger-happy," as "reckless," and as being ready to plunge America into a nuclear war.

Direct Command

All that the Arizona senator has said is that the supreme commander of NATO should have direct command over the tactical nuclear weapons which are a part of the battlefield arsenal of NATO forces in Europe. These, of course, aren't the same thing as mammoth nuclear bombs, but are essentially artillery pieces of one kind or another with nuclear warheads of generally low-yield power. They are designed not to wipe out vast areas but to be effective in deterring the advance of enemy armies. Frequently only the commander on the scene would know whether and when they should be used.

Sen. Goldwater on July 13 said: "I have suggested that we never remove this responsibility from the president, but that the commander of NATO have a little more leeway in the election of weapons and the timeliness of the weapons."

All that Sen. Goldwater has urged has now been confirmed in principle by President Johnson in issuing a blanket instruction to the Navy "to attack any force which attacks them in international waters, and to attack with the objective not only of driving off the force but of destroying it."

Puzzling Situation

It is puzzling why Sen. Goldwater should have been so vehemently criticized for recommending the same kind of discretion for the commander in the field as Mr. Johnson has authorized. The only explanation is that the criticism serves as a political gimmick to try to scare people and make them believe that the Arizona senator would, if elected president, plunge the country into a nuclear war.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who is being mentioned for the vice-presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket, said only last Sunday on the CBS "Face the Nation" broadcast that the American people would rather not have a man as president "who is uncertain, has a nervous finger on the nuclear trigger, and may very well give an irrational response to an international crisis." He said that to avoid this the people should vote for Mr. Johnson. The Minnesota senator's characterization of Sen. Goldwater was most unfortunate, and it may be he had not read the correct version of what the Arizona senator really has said.

Last Sunday, Representative William E. Miller, the Republican vice-presidential nominee, was talking about this very point on the ABC program "Issues and Answers." He said:

"Sen. Goldwater is not as misunderstood, in my judgment, as he is misrepresented. In other words, you can remember the statement he made in connection with defoliation of the supply lines. And he said there are five or six things you could do, and one of them might be the use of low-yield atom bombs in the defoliation of the cover in the interdiction of the supply lines in Cambodia, Laos, North

Viet Nam's side of the story along with dispatches from Washington reporting President Johnson's radio and television address.

Algiers police stopped some 200 students marching toward the U.S. Embassy to demonstrate against American policy in Viet Nam.

Trybuna Ludu, official organ of Poland's Communist party, said "armed U.S. aggression vividly reminds of 19th century colonial powers' actions seeking any pretext for a prepared military intervention."

Demonstrators in Glasgow, Scotland, painted slogans outside the U.S. consulate, hurled their paint pot through a ground-floor window and fled. The slogans said "No war in Viet Nam" and "No war in Laos."

Comment Elsewhere
Other European comment:
Il Messaggero, Rome — "The hard reprisal of the United States against the bases and ships of North Viet Nam is the natural reply to the provocations of the Communist government of Hanoi."

L'Unita, organ of the Italian Communist party — "At two years' distance from the Cuban crisis, the entire world is in new danger of the worst. Now as then the threat of war comes from American imperialism."

Amsterdam Telegraaf — "It is clear that President Johnson wants to make it clear to the world, and particularly to Red China, that the United States is no paper tiger."

Soviets Ignored
Stockholm Svenska Dagbladet — "The Chinese and their satellites no longer ask for Russian permission before they act."

ABC, Madrid — "The North Vietnamese, under the direct influence of Peking, are doing everything possible to provoke an armed conflict."

Oslo Aftenposten — "So far all one can say is that the present situation has very dangerous complications and should not invite hasty conclusions. Cheap assertions to the effect that the American administration, out of fear of competition from Goldwater, have used the situation in Southeast Asia for their own purposes in the forthcoming presidential election are a dangerous simplification of the matter."

Viet Nam, into South Viet Nam. He quickly said: 'We' probably wouldn't do any of these things'—you remember that—but the headlines in the newspapers the next day were: 'Goldwater Would Use Atom Bombs.'"

Actually, one of the wire services had erroneously reported Sen. Goldwater as having "proposed" the use of nuclear bombs to "defoliate" the enemy's protection cover. But even after this was denied and the actual stenographic text of what Mr. Goldwater had said was published widely, two cabinet officers repeated the charge just the same in subsequent speeches. So when the reporting errors double the amount of interest have been corrected, the press due (on state educational loans) and tortions made by the politicians to up it from 5 to 5½ per cent on the stump, who either haven't after the student leaves school. in the Senate and House Wednesday and were expected to receive overwhelming approval Friday.

PT Fleet Hit Heavily
Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara detailed Wednesday the flaming havoc wrought by the bombs and rockets of U.S. carrier planes in retaliation for Red PT boat attacks on U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The defense chief in interviews on the CBS and NBC networks, said Wednesday night the reconnaissance flights drew no antiaircraft fire such as shot down two attacking U.S. planes and damaged a third Wednesday.

The estimates indicated the air strikes wiped out two-thirds to three-fourths of North Viet Nam's operational patrol boat fleet, he added.

Red China, which has been supporting the guerrilla warfare in South Viet Nam by funneling supplies to North Viet Nam by land and via the Gulf of Tonkin, fired off threats and denunciations.

Gov. Reynolds Touring Northern Part of State

Lists Three Projects as Leading Northern Wisconsin to Prosperity

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — day night by Dominic Frinzi. Gov. John W. Reynolds said Wednesday that northern Wisconsin "is pulling itself up by its bootstraps but few people realize it."

The Democratic chief executive, who seeks re-election, told a service club at Superior there were three projects that would help lead the north back to prosperity. He listed them as the rebuilding of a Butternut woodworking plant destroyed by fire, a new fiber production plant in Superior and a new paper mill in Tomahawk. "Those who cry out against government loans to depressed areas should realize that the depressed areas—where capital is most scarce—are coming up with money of their own to get these projects going."

Later Address
In a later address to a five-county development group in Hurley, Reynolds said that Wisconsin recorded more than 90 new industries and plant expansions up to July 15.

The endorsed Republican candidate for governor, Warren Knowles, said at Racine Wednesday that "a brain drain is taking from us one of our finest resources — our trained young people. We must devise economic development programs that will create opportunity at home."

Knowles said that in the years 1961 to 1963, "sixty per cent of all graduating engineers from the University of Wisconsin went out of the state to find work, although a university survey shows that over 40 per cent of that group would have preferred to stay here if employment were available."

immediately after its approval by the two committees.

Passage Set for Friday
The House Foreign Affairs Committee also set a hearing, with its schedule calling for House passage Friday.

The speed of the schedule underscored the gravity with which Congress and the President view the two attacks by North Vietnamese PT boats on U.S. destroyers in international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin off the North Vietnamese coast.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., long a critic of U.S. Asian policy, denounced the resolution as "a predated declaration of war" and told the Senate he would not support it, either in the Foreign Relations Committee or on the floor.

Clerk Reads Message
But he ran up against a swelling tide of support for the President's actions against the North Vietnamese, fed by growing indignation against the North Vietnamese Communist regime.

Morse was speaking in the Senate Wednesday when a White House official arrived with a special message from Johnson asking a congressional declaration of support for his decision to fight back against the North Vietnamese attacks on U.S. naval vessels.

He listened while a clerk read the message, and then yielded to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee for the introduction of the resolution to carry out the President's request.

The resolution says naval units of the Communist regime in Viet Nam have "deliberately and repeatedly" attacked U.S. vessels in international waters and created a serious threat to peace as part of "a deliberate and systematic campaign of aggression" against its neighbors.

and Tuesday were part of a plan to subjugate all Southeast Asia. Stevenson said the U.S. counterblow Wednesday was "limited and measured" to discourage further acts of aggression. He said President Johnson had given him explicit instructions to assure the council that the U.S. mission in Asia is "peace."

He said the United States had acted in self-defense and in accord with the U.N. charter.

Morozov denounced the U.S. air raids as "acts of aggression."

"The expansionist aims of the United States for extending the war in Southeast Asia are fraught with danger for the area," he said.

Roger W. Jackling of Britain said the United States had the right to act "to prevent the recurrence of attacks on her ships."

Stevenson said the United States had no objection to inviting North Viet Nam but the South Vietnamese should be asked too.

Morozov said the United States could "do without the assistance of these flunkies," but he agreed to pull back his resolution and let Nielsen draw one up.

Marxist Leader of Small Corner of Southeast Asia Direct Opponent of U. S.

Viet Cong Chief Is Regarded As Country's Great Patriot

BY JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — A shadowy but famous Marxist ruler of a little known corner of Southeast Asia suddenly has become the direct adversary of the United States, his torpedo boat nests the targets of American bombs. Straggly-bearded Ho Chi Minh, one time cabin boy, cook and Soviet follower, is regarded by many in his democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam — and by quite a few in South to the defeated French, but French and Soviet pressure forced him to postpone total control of Viet Nam in favor of a divided country.

Began Campaign
Five years later, convinced that unity could never be achieved on their terms, Ho's Communists began the guerrilla campaign against the south, then led by Ngo Dinh Diem. Even before Ho's torpedo boats attacked U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin this week, there had been increasing talk in Asia and in the United States chant ship, is said to have spent some time in the United States, worked as an assistant to the great French cook Escoffier in London, and from Germany reached Paris, where he got a job retouching photographs.

Joined League
But his tastes were predominantly for politics and reading. Soon he joined the "League for the Rights of Man," the French Socialist party, and met such French socialist leaders as Leon Blum and Marcel Cachin.

Known as Nguyen Ai Quoc, he spent much time in European jails for his Socialist views. In 1919, with Cachin and others, he became a founding member of the French Communist party and wrote a book that soon became famous, "French Colonization on Trial." Smuggled into Indochina, it inflamed the passions of young patriots and made Nguyen Ai Quoc a household name there.

Next Stop

His next stop was Canton, in China, where he was secretary to Michael Borodin, the Soviet advisor to Sun Yat-sen's emerging Kuomintang. There he met Chou En-lai and many Chinese Communists then collaborating with the Kuomintang in its drive to unify China. In Canton, Nguyen Ai Quoc formed an association of Vietnamese revolutionary youth, the forerunner of the Communist party which he created in 1931 at Hong Kong. By that time, the Kuomintang and the Communists had quarreled, and Nguyen Ai Quoc had been forced to flee, first to Moscow, then to the British colony.

During World War II, the Allies in Chungking used the revolutionary movements in Indochina to gather intelligence and carry out sabotage against the Japanese. Nguyen Ai Quoc, known as a Communist, landed in jail in South China but he soon persuaded his captor, Gov. Chang Fa-kwei, that his group could do a better job than the Nationalists. To get him out jail and supplied with the funds he needed from Chungking, Nguyen did a simple and easy thing: He changed his name to Ho Chi Minh, "The Enlightener."

No one in the Nationalist capital knew the name, so they took Chang Fa-kwei's word that he was the man for the job.

Underground Army

Thus, when World War II ended, Ho had an underground army supplied, equipped and encouraged by the United States and its Allies. He was able to enter Hanoi — no longer, on the face of it, a Communist, since he had with shrewd forethought abolished the party some months earlier. Ho knew that in the struggle which would follow, he could lead Viet Nam not as a Communist but as a nationalist. He kept up the fiction until 1951 when he formed the Lien Viet (United National Front) in which the Lao Dong (Communist) Workers' party was to the leading element.

During the long years of war against the French, Ho was cod-blooded in liquidating those who threatened his power or that of the Communists. At the time of victory in 1954 he was in absolute control.

Then came the division of the country.

Today, 10 years later, the north is reported caught in the grip of economic hard times, with black marketing, corruption, food shortages, unemployment and low wages.

No Information

There seems to be no accurate information available on the size of the North Vietnamese military establishment, but the general view is that it has grown considerably since the victory of 1954. American intelligence sources say the army numbers 250,000 men, the navy 1,000 and the air force 300.

South Vietnamese sources say there may be as many as 500,000 in the army. Nationalist Chinese officials put the figure at closer to 300,000 or 350,000.

Kaukauna Youth Fined On Disorderly Conduct For Insulting Policeman

KAUKAUNA — Leo Mitchell, 19, 110 W. Fifth St., was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Justice Oscar T. Johns after pleading guilty of disorderly conduct Wednesday.

City police arrested Mitchell Tuesday on Crooks Avenue. A policeman said Mitchell and two other youths were hitchhiking, and when he warned them to hitchhike from the curb, not the road, Mitchell insulted him.

Which came first: the golf ball or Gordon's Gin?

Golf dates back to the 15th Century when a ball stuffed with feathers was used. In 1848 the "guttie"—a hard, moulded ball that was the direct forerunner of our modern golf ball—was introduced in Britain. In London, 79 years before this innovation, Alexander Gordon perfected his formula for a special gin. Today, golfers the world over relax at the Nineteenth Hole and enjoy the delicate flavour and distinctive dryness of Gordon's Gin. Some claim that Gordon's offers considerable consolation as they total their score. No wonder it's the biggest seller in England, America, the world!

Self-Employed Hardest Hit by Social Security

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Today, 7 million workers, ranging from professional scientists to farmers, are paying self-employed Social Security taxes—nearly one in 10 of the entire work force covered by the Social Security System.

This group, as a whole, would be hit hardest by the Social Security tax increases provided in the amendments now before Congress and slated for passage soon. They would also, of course, be eligible for significant hikes in benefits.

As a self-employed person, you already pay a Social Security tax rate one and one-half times the amount an employee pays and three-fourths of the combined employer-employee tax rate.

Just since 1960 your tax rate has climbed from 4.5 per cent of the first $4,800 you earn to today's 5.4 per cent — and assuming the amendments become law, your rate will jump to 5.7 per cent in 1965 and continue rising until it reaches 7.5 per cent in 1971.

New Rates

What's more, the new rates would apply to an increased "earnings base" of $5,400 — against today's $4,800. The earnings base is the maximum amount on which taxes and benefits are calculated.

If you now earn $5,400 or more, here is what you would pay under the new tax rates as compared with what you pay now.

Year	Present law	New law
1965	$259.20	$307.80
1966-67	297.60	324.00
1968-70	331.20	367.20
1971	331.20	388.80

If you now earn between $4,800 and $5,400, your tax hike would be less. At the $5,000 level, for instance, your tax increase next year would amount to $28.80.

If you now earn less than $4,800, the increase in your tax would be insignificant. For 1965 you would pay an extra $14.40.

Let's assume you're self-employed, earn $5,400, have a wife and two children and take the standard deduction. Your 1965 Social Security tax hike would amount to $68.00.

Tax Reductions

There's no denying that this would eat into the $138 a year you're gaining from the federal income tax reductions — $97 starting in 1964 and $41 more starting in 1965. Obviously, though, you still would be way ahead — $60.40 a year, to be precise.

Far more important, the Social Security benefits to which you would be entitled in the future would be sharply increased under the 1964 amendments.

Your monthly benefits would be raised across-the-board by a flat 5 per cent.

They would be further increased by the fact that the earnings base on which your benefits are calculated would be raised from $4,800 to $5,400.

If you are to retire soon, your total benefits could be increased 10 per cent by these two provisions in the legislation.

A significant segment of our self-employed — many of the 1.7 million self-employed farmers now reporting under the Social Security System — would be eligible for immediate benefit raises.

Under the amendments farmers would be permitted to report either on the new standard $5,400 earnings base, or, if their gross earnings are $2,400 or more, on a new profit ceiling of $1,600. These figures compare with today's $4,800 earnings base and today's profit ceiling of $1,200.

As an illustration of what this could mean, a farmer who today earns $2,400 but nets less than $1,200 is entitled to a

U. S. Fleet Patrols Gulf Of Tonkin

N. Vietnamese and Red China Regard It as Private Lake

Although the Gulf of Tonkin is a sizable international body of water 150 miles wide and 300 miles long, North Viet Nam and Red China seem to regard it as their private lake.

monthly Social Security benefit of only $50.

The new provisions would make this same farmer eligible for a monthly benefit of $70 — and with the flat 5 per cent increase, his new maximum monthly benefit would become $73.50.

China Sea, the crescent-shaped Gulf is bounded by North Viet Nam on the west, China's Hainan Island on the east and the Chinese mainland on the east and north.

It has been patrolled regularly by the U.S. 7th Fleet.

On Gulf

The entire North Vietnamese coastline is on the gulf, including Benthuy and Haiphong, the two principal ports. It is thus the only route for Russian and Communist Chinese ships bringing arms to North Viet Nam.

And any sea invasion of North Viet Nam would have to come by way of the gulf.

A month ago the Chinese issued new warnings to foreign shipping using the 15-mile Hainan Strait between China's Hainan Island and Luichow Peninsula on the Chinese mainland. The strait is the western entrance to the Gulf of Tonkin.

Over the signature of Premier Chou En-Lai, the regulations forbade ships to use radar or photographic equipment, restricted them to the middle of the strait and said they must obey any challenge.

The rules seemed to be more than another frequent Communist effort to assert sovereignty over waterways partly enclosed by their land territory. They indicated a major buildup in the area.

The Luichow Peninsula, at the tip of Kwangtung Province, occupies an important place in Peking's strategic thinking for Southeast Asia.

A 600-mile military highway from Canton cuts into the province and over to North Viet Nam, connecting with the Tonkin coastal road. The road was an important supply route in the Vietnamese war against the French and probably remains
